PROBING FALSE REGISTRATION

Grandjury Will Investigate the Matter.

FOLK AND HIS MEN AT WORK

EVIDENCE TO OFFER THAT IS CONSIDERED WORTH WHILE.

If Grandjury Thinks It Sufficient Indictments Will Follow and Guilty Ones Will Be Brought to Justice.

Alleged false registration and contemplated election frauds will be taken up this afternoon and investigated by the October grandjury under direction of Circuit Attorney Fok.

Mr. Folk says the investigation Wednesday will be of a general character, and that it was only the beginning of an investigation that would be thorough and complete before the election next Tuesday.

Two cases that are known to be under investigation are the places presided over by Patrick Garvey and John McGillicuddy, alias Cuddy Mack.

Garvey is a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Dickmann, and he keeps a saloon at Third and Convent streets. Above the saloon his wife keeps a boarding-house. From this boarding-house are registered 43 names of alleged voters.

Fifty Register From Cuddy Mack's Place.

Cuddy Mack is a candidate for constable in the Fifth district. He keeps a saloon on the northwest corner of Sixth street and Franklin avenue. Above his saloon is a small boarding-house. From this address are registered about 50 alleged voters.

About on dozen subpenas have been issued for persons in a position to know the accurateness of the registration. These subpenas are in the hands of the sheriff. Only one had been served at noon. This was for Eddie Morrissey, the Democratic candidate for constable in the Fourth district. Some of the subpenas have been returned and the deputy attempting to serve them has reported that the persons wanted were not found.

Circuit Attorney Folk says that if the investigation reveals that false registration has been practiced, indictments for false registration will be issued. Just what evidence he expects to present to the grandjury Mr. Folk will not state. It is known, however, that he has had his representatives visit the places in question to verify the list. That the list has proven to be incapable of verification is evidenced by the fact that Mr. Folk will ask the grandjury to return indictments.

Chief Kiely Tells of Police Purpose.

Chief of Police Kiely states that he will have the police at the polls, the same as he always has. The law, he says, leaves it with the judges of election to pass upon the qualifications of a person seeking to vote. If the judges decide that the applicant is entitled to cast his ballot, the police will not interfere. If they ask for the arrest of a person seeking to vote, the arrest will be made.

FRANK TO SERVE FOUR YEARS

Arrested Saturday for Attempt to Kill, Tried Monday and Sentenced Today.

William Smith, alias George Frank, received a sentence of four years in the penitentiary for assault to kill that completed his record-breaking career with St. Louis justice Wednesday morning. Smith was arrested Saturday after an exciting chase in which he attempted to kill Detective Keely. Monday he was brought to trial and pleaded guilty. Wednesday he received his sentence from Judge Douglas.

Smith was suspected of forgery by Detectives Keely and O'Neill Saturday. They watched him while he went into a Pine street printing house where he received 1000 checks which he had ordered printed in the name of the Elgin, Ill., bank.

When he came out with the checks he saw the officers and started on a run to Eleventh street.

The detectives followed. Smith ran through the music store of Jesse L. French & Co. In the alley back of the music store he turned and fired three shots at Detective Keely who returned the fire. Smith's bullets did not hurt Keely, but grazed a bystander.

Then Smith ran out the alley toward Eleventh street. From there he ran over to Chestnut and was not finally captured until he ran into the alleyway back of the city dispensary.

NO TRACE FOUND OF TARGET GUN

Weapon With Which Larimore Was Killed.

THE COMMUNITY TAKES SIDES

FEUD BETWEEN LESTER AND LARIMORE FAMILIES.

Friends of the Accused Man Maintain That His Whole Life and Nature Belie the Suggestion of Assassination.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 29.—Not a trace has been found of the weapon from which was fired the bullet that ended the life of Fred Larimore last Friday night.

The conclusion was reached at the inquest that the weapon was a target gun of 22 caliber. So far as known no such weapon has ever been in the possession of Millard Fillmore Lester, the man accused of the murder.

There are several 22-caliber rifles in Plainville. Most of them have been located. Yesterday afternoon men pumped out the well and cistern back of the Grand Army Hall, near where Lester was supposed to have his horse hitched last Thursday night. It was thought possible that the gun might have been thrown in the well, but no weapon was found.

The community is dividing into two factions—one on the Larimore side see evidence of guilt in the facts connecting Lester with the crime. The other side scouts this contention.

This class cannot associate Lester with the idea of lying in wait for a man with a little 22-caliber target gun. Lester, they say, is the sort who if he felt he had provocation to take a man's life, would blow a hole in his enemy in the open day and stand his ground afterward. The use of a weapon of such small caliber is hard to explain—especially in view of the fact that the shot was fired from so great a distance. The friends of Lester put forward the theory today that Larimore met death by accident, and that the person who fired the shot will, when the excitement subsides, come forward and make a full explanation of the tragedy.

The letters found in Fred Larimore's trunk furnish the chief link in the suspicion directed toward Lester. It is assumed that they were written by Lester's daughter, Mrs. Lura McKee.

Her name is not signed to them, but circumstances point directly to her as the writer. One of a recent date bore the Battle Creek postmark. The only woman from Plainville at Battle Creek at that time was Mrs. Alvin McKee, who, while her husband was in the sanitarium, was boarding at a hotel. The letter described the writer's loneliness and contained an invitation to Larimore to visit Battle Creek, the writer offering to pay his expenses if he would make the journey. Whether Larimore went to Battle Creek is unknown, but it has been established that Millard Fillmore Lester had knowledge of his daughter's flirtation with Larimore and had warned the latter to desist. It is also known that Mrs. McKee was expected home the day after Larimore was killed.

CLOUDY AND SOME WARMER

Dr. Hyatt Doesn't See Any Chance of Cold Weather for Several Days to Come.

Dr. Hyatt can see no chance of cold weather for several days, even though there was a frost as far south as Vicksburg last night.

A low up in the Northwest and over a good portion of the West will bring a lower temperature to St. Louis unless it gets sidetracked on the way East.

There is a high away out on the Pacific slope, and another is disappearing over the eastern horizon of the weather observatory.

The indications are that the low is not low enough to bring rain, but the weather is nevertheless threatening enough to keep you near your own roof tree unless you have business elsewhere.

It's a little early to predict Horse Show weather, but it begins to look decidedly favorable.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

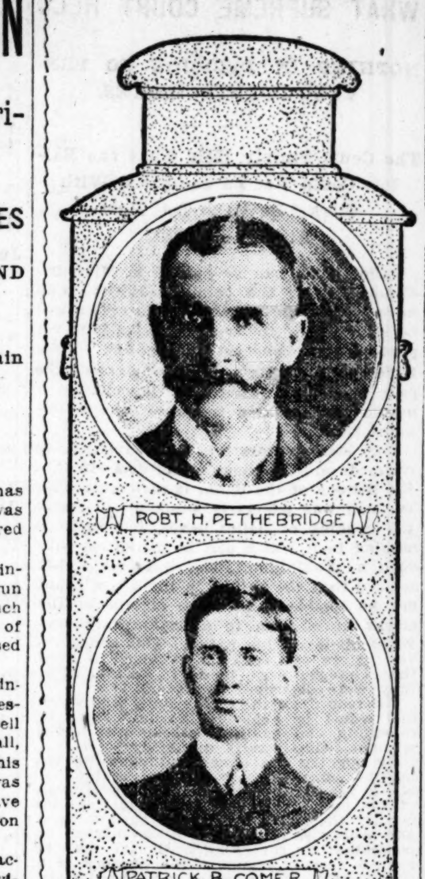

LOCAL FORECAST.

For St. Louis and vicinity—Partly cloudy Wednesday night and Thursday; rising temperature.

Illinois and Indiana—Partly cloudy Wednesday night and Thursday; rising temperature; southerly winds.

Missouri—Generally fair Wednesday night and Thursday; slightly warmer Wednesday night; cooler in west portion Thursday; southwest to west winds.

ROBT. H. PETHEBRIDGE

PATRICK B. COMER

FATHER CLAIMS HIS CHILDREN

Habeas Corpus Writ Applied for by Prof. Wills.

WIFE GOT SECRET DIVORCE

PLACED LITTLE ONES IN METHODIST ORPHANS' HOME.

Instructor in National University Prays for Possession of the Boy and Girl to Rear Them.

Judge Fisher, in division No. 5 of the Circuit Court this morning, granted the application for a writ of habeas corpus made by Prof. Henry M. Wills, an instructor in the National University at Washington, D. C., and directed Miss M. A. Sleigh, matron of the Methodist Orphans' Home Association at Maryland and Newstead avenues, to produce the petitioner's children, Dan, aged 7 years, and Neva, 5 years, in court Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The petitioner recites that he married Miss Zella E. Spellings at Kirklin, Ind., Aug. 15, 1894.

In April of 1899, he alleges, his wife obtained permission to visit her parents in Gibson County, Tenn. She took the children with her, and, after remaining away a short period, refused, he says, to return.

After an absence of six months, he alleges, she filed suit for a divorce in the Gibson County Circuit Court, representing that she had lived in the state two years and that the residence of her husband was unknown. In August of the same year she obtained a decree of divorce and was awarded the custody of the children.

The plaintiff avers that he knew nothing of her suit for divorce until after the decree was granted, and he immediately took steps to secure its annulment. He filed suit for that purpose in the Gibson County Circuit Court in November, 1901, and applied for a writ of habeas corpus to have the children produced in court.

Immediately after his former wife was served with the writ she secretly fled from the state, he alleges, taking the children.

At the July term of court, he says, Zella E. Wills, alias Rhinehart, was indicted for attempting to avoid a habeas corpus writ and was fined for contempt of court. An attachment for her arrest was issued and is still in the hands of the sheriff of Gibson County.

The petition alleges that he believes his former wife married a man named Rhinehart in Memphis, Tenn., in September, 1900, but that three months later Rhinehart obtained a divorce.

Wills declares he has discovered that the children are now unlawfully detained by their mother in the Methodist Orphans' Home at Maryland and Newstead avenues, under the name of Rhinehart.

He states that his position as instructor in the National University enables him to properly rear and educate the children, and that the mother is morally unfit to be their custodian.

PARIS MUSICIANS TO STRIKE

All the Men Who Play at Theaters Will Go Out Thursday Noon.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The musicians of the Paris theaters at a meeting today voted unanimously in favor of a general strike, beginning tomorrow at noon. Twelve hundred musicians were represented at the meeting.

The decision to strike is the result of a protracted conflict with the managers of the theaters over wages and extras for rehearsals and matinees.

CHANGE OF VENUE DENIED BERSCH

Judge Ryan Declares He Can Get a Fair Trial Here.

BERSCH WAS REPRIMANDED

STATE TESTIMONY TAKEN IN CHANGE OF VENUE PROCEEDINGS.

The Few Witnesses Summoned Said Bersch Was Not an Object of Prejudice — Motion to Quash Is Overruled.

Judge O'Neill Ryan, at 12:45 this afternoon, denied the application of Edmund Bersch, charged with perjury, for a change of venue. Judge Ryan declared that from the evidence offered he cannot find that such prejudice exists against Bersch in St. Louis as will prevent him from having fair and impartial trial here.

In denying the change of venue Judge Ryan stated that while he believed in the cases of Edward Butler and Charles H. Kratz a feeling of personal prejudice had existed, he could not find from the evidence that such a prejudice existed in the case of Mr. Bersch. Neither could he find undue prejudice against the combine.

Immediately after the giving of the decision Judge Krum moved to quash the indictment. Judge Ryan took the motion under advisement and adjourned court till 2 o'clock.

Edmund Bersch is on trial on the charge of perjury in connection with the Suburban bill boodle cases. The trial was resumed in Judge Ryan's court this morning, and the hearing of testimony in behalf of the state opposing Bersch's application for a change of venue was heard.

When court was called to order Mr. Bersch was not in court. The sheriff called his name three times, but still he did not appear. Twenty minutes later he came in smiling and took his seat as though his tardiness were the proper thing.

He was called before Judge Ryan and severely reprimanded and warned that hereafter he must be in court on time or suffer the penalty.

The first witness called was C. E. Udell, who testified that he did not believe such prejudice existed in St. Louis that Mr. Bersch could not get a fair trial. He said that he believed that there was a prejudice against the crime but not against the man.

He further testified that there was a feeling against the combine, which had been defrauding St. Louis, but that he did not think Mr. Bersch had been singled out for the target of this feeling.

Other witnesses who testified to practically the same thing were John H. Tennant, Jesse H. Holmes, F. A. Kaufmann, Webb M. Samuels, J. S. Bemis, Max Stein, Charles H. Stacey, W. P. Kennett, Conrad Biebinger, James H. Carpenter and J. H. Conrades.

Upon convening court this afternoon Judge Ryan at once overruled the motion to quash the indictment made by Judge Krum.

The defense then asked for a continuance, which was also refused.

A motion to quash the venire was the next motion on the part of the defense.

KING SENDS A MESSENGER.

Bears Documents Either for President or British Embassy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Oliver A. Borthwick, a special messenger from King Edward VII, bearing documents of importance, sent either to President Roosevelt or to the British Embassy at Washington, has arrived here.

To the customs officials he was obliged to disclose his identity. He stated only that his mission was one of great importance, and produced a parchment which, in language savoring of the past, proclaimed him the king's messenger and courtier, and stated that he must not be detained when in the land of a friendly power.

Woman With Peculiar Mania Says She Suffers No Pain.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Ophelia Schneider has been committed to Bellevue hospital for examination as to her sanity. When she arrived at the hospital she was placed in charge of Dr. McClimate.

She told the physician that she "just couldn't help killing herself" and that she "loved to stick pins into her knees."

The physician examined the woman's knees and found the skin covered with perforations, which the woman admitted she had inflicted herself by pushing pins into her knees until they reached the bone and would go no further. She said she felt no pain. She was placed in the insane pavilion.

GOOD POINT FOR MOLINEAUX.

Testimony of Two Witnesses at Last Trial Ruled Out.

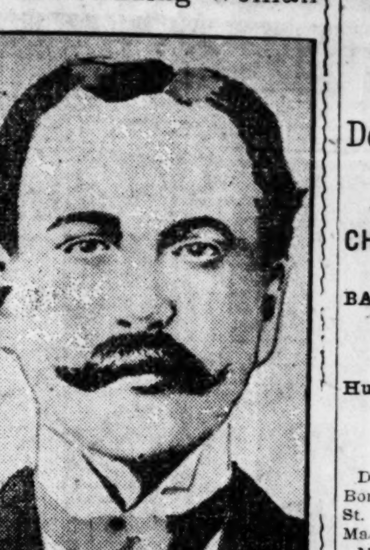

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Justice Lambert today, at the resumption of the trial of Roland B. Molineux for the murder of Kate Adams, announced that he had decided to exclude the testimony of Mamie Melando and Joseph Farrell, given at the last trial of Molineux, which the prosecution wished to have read to the jury. Both of these former witnesses live in New Jersey, outside the jurisdiction of the court, and the proceedings in the case yesterday closed with arguments on the point of reading the testimony in the absence of the witnesses, who cannot be compelled to attend the trial. Miss Melando was the first witness at the first trial to connect Molineux with the blue crescent paper and Farrell testified that he saw Molineux in Newark with a small package the day the bottle holder was bought in that city.

Assistant District Attorney Osborne called Daniel T. Ames, a handwriting expert, as his first witness today. Ames said that the same hand wrote all the "Barnet" and "Cornish" letters and the addresses on the poison package. He said he had compared those writings with the conceded writings of Molineux and is convinced beyond room for doubt that his hand made the disputed writings.

Ex-Gov. Black had no questions and Mr. Osborne announced that the case for the prosecution was closed.

At the suggestion of counsel, Justice Lambert suspended further proceedings until tomorrow.

Again Accused of Defrauding Woman

S. G. LEAKE.

HIS BOARDERS NEVER COME.

Another Charge of Fraud Made Against S. G. Leake.

Mrs. C. Converse of 1201 North Taylor avenue has reported to the police another case of fraud perpetrated by a man giving his name as S. G. Leake, and purporting to be manager of the World's Fair Bureau.

Mrs. Converse says the man called at her house and promised to furnish roomers and advertise her rooms in the local papers for a year for $5. He said his office was at 21 North Eighth street, and if she should be dissatisfied with results she could call there and the money would be refunded. This was a week ago. She waited until yesterday and, hearing nothing from the man and obtaining no results from her bargain, she went to the address on North Eighth street. She found "Leake" had no office there.

When Mrs. Converse went to the police she learned that Leake, the real manager of the World's Fair Bureau, was already under arrest. He was arrested a month ago, and warrants were procured by other alleged victims. Mrs. Converse will add her name to the list of prosecuting witnesses. The police are now looking for the "proxy."

HUSBANDS AND WIVES BY GROSS

Charge That W. W. Chinn Sold Fraudulent Photographs.

MATRIMONIAL BUREAU RAIDED

ST. LOUIS CONCERN SAID TO HAVE USED MAILS TO DEFRAUD.

Chinn Is Accused of Having Purchased Pictures of Actors and Actress and of Having Passed Them Off as Candidates for Marriage.

W. W. Chinn, the alleged proprietor of the Verona Book Company and Introduction Bureau, which transacted business in the Gay building, at 204 North Third street, was arrested this morning under instructions of Chief Postoffice Inspector Dice and charged with using the United States mails for schemes to defraud.

The concern of which Chinn is said to be the proprietor is a matrimonial bureau, and the United States authorities seized hundreds of letters from patrons, many of which contained remittances from people whom the postal inspectors claim are being duped by Chinn.

It is charged by Mr. Dice that Chinn came to St. Louis from Chicago three weeks ago and that he was forced to leave Chicago because of the recent raids made on matrimonial agencies by the police. His stenographer, who was taken to the Federal building as a witness, stated that Chinn's receipts ran from $35 to $100 a day on an average.

Inspector Dice claims that Chinn procured all the photographs from "marriageable persons" from a man in Chicago, who sells pictures of actors and actresses by the gross, and that in responding to a patron the accused man would mail a photograph stating that this picture "represented the person more accurately than he could describe her" (or him).

Chinn declines to discuss his case and has admitted nothing thus far to the authorities, who claim that Chinn is not his proper name, but an alias. Thousands of copies of circular letters, flowery and elegant in language, describing the advantages of the bureau, were seized. Many of the applications for membership are from youthful and apparently eminently respectable persons. Chinn is said to have advertised in over 100 journals throughout the country.

MITCHELL DAY CELEBRATED.

General Suspension of Work in Anthracite Mines.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Mitchell day was celebrated by all the union miners in the anthracite region today. There was a general suspension of work. A few washeries were working, but their output of coal was very small. President Mitchell arrived from New Yoork today. He will go to Scranton to attend the first session of the arbitration commission. There were demonstrations in many of the nearby towns today and after the parade the people flocked to Wilkesbarre in large numbers to see the big parade.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 29.—Mitchell day was observed here today. Seven thousand united mine workers, headed by the Tenth Regiment Band and troops, paraded the streets, after which the mine workers were addressed by several labor leaders. DEATH ENDS DIVORCE SUIT

Demise of Mrs. Bonnie Hoyt Closes Sad Romance.

BABY MARJIE INNOCENTLY ASKS "WHERE'S BONNIE?"

Husband of the Dead Girl Is a Nephew of Playwright Charles H. Hoyt.

Death has dismissed the divorce suit of Bonnie Hoyt vs. Harry H. Hoyt in the St. Louis Circuit Court and has left Baby Margie Hoyt alone among strangers.

Mrs. Bonnie Hoyt died in a sanitarium at Chicago last night, having been unconscious since Sunday. The theatrical company with which she was engaged as a chorus girl knew nothing as to her family, and it was through her baby in St. Louis, indirectly, that her wealthy father was notified of her death.

She was the young wife of a nephew of the late playwright, Charles H. Hoyt, who is now said to be starring in one of his uncle's plays.

In a little house at 5433 Magnolia avenue Margie, the little 2-year-old daughter, is playing with her dolls and wondering why Mrs. Thomas Richmond, who looks after her, says "poor Bonnie" in referring to the child's mother.

"That's Bonnie," said Margie this morning, pointing to a picture of her mother. "Where is Bonnie?"

The child has been separated from her mother only ten days. Two weeks ago Mrs. Hoyt wrote to Mrs. Richmond to go to Chicago and get the child. For a year, up to last summer, the baby boarded with Mrs. Richmond, who became greatly attached to Margie.

Miss Lizzie Richmond, a stenographer, daughter of Mrs. Richmond, went to Chicago a week ago last Sunday and brought the little one to St. Louis. The child had been with her mother in Boston and other eastern points during the summer.

TELEGRAM ANNOUNCED DEATH.

Last night Mrs. Richmond received a telegram from James R. Somes, manager of the "Prince of Pilsen" theatrical troupe, announcing the death of Bonnie Hoyt and asking for the address of her relatives.

Another dispatch from Chicago said that Mrs. Hoyt had died from peritonitis at the Ana Rosa Sanitarium. She had been singing in the chorus of the "Prince of Pilsen" company at the Studebaker Theater. It was stated that nothing was known of her relatives except that she had a baby among strangers in St. Louis and that she was separated from her husband.

Manager Somes found the address of Mrs. Richmond among the effects of the young woman, letters regarding the child having passed, and wired for information.

Attorney A. M. Frumberg, who read a news notice of Mrs. Hoyt's death, wired at once to the actress' father, Prof. H. M. Windsor of Crow Point, Hingham, Mass. and also to the Studebaker Theater management.

Mr. Frumberg was attorney for Mrs. Hoyt in her suit for divorce pending in Judge Zachritz's division of the Circuit Court. The suit was filed last May, Mrs. Hoyt setting forth in her petition that she had been a resident of St. Louis for one year. She alleged desertion, non-support and general indignities, and said that her husband lived in Chicago.

The couple were married at Muscatine, Io., Dec. 14, 1897, and separated Sept. 3, 1898. Mrs. Hoyt, at her death, was scarcely 21 years of age and was quite ambitious for a stage career as a legitimate actress.

Mr. Frumberg says she was understudying the leading role in "The Prince of Pilsen," and expected shortly to be put on the road at the head of Mr. Somes' second company.

YOUTH PREVENTS SORROW.

A year and a half ago Bonnie Hoyt came to St. Louis with her baby, a golden-haired, blue-eyed child. Her father, Prof. Windsor, was then residing in this city.

Later Prof. Windsor returned to Massachusetts. He is said to be wealthy. He is divorced from his first wife, who is now Mrs. William Griggsby of Gainesville, Tex.

Little Margie Hoyt, now suddenly bereft of her mother, is quite happy in her present surroundings. Too young to realize her loss, she merely asks, "Where's Bonnie?" Nearly half her life has been spent with Mrs. Richmond, who advertised for a child to board.

"I am a lonely widow," said Mrs. Richmond, "and wanted a little one. I am very much attached to Margie, and I trust her mother's folks will let me keep her. She was away from us all summer, with her poor mother, and we missed her very much. I believe Monnie Hoyt visited her father in the East while she had the child with her. Then when she went on the stage she preferred to have me keep the little girl."

Attorney Frumberg says that Bonnie Hoyt possessed high talents, and was a beautiful and intelligent young woman, for whom the stage seemed to promise a successful career.

SIX MEN ROB ILLINOIS BANK

AFTER TYING MARSHAL

Officer Forced to Look on While Safe Is Looted.

ROBBERS GET NEARLY $4000.

WRECK VAULT WITH DYNAMITE WITH SKILL OF EXPERTS.

Then, Concluding Work They Bind Prisoner at Stairway so He Will Hang Himself by Struggle for Freedom.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

GARDNER, Ill., Oct. 29.—The vault of the bank at this place was blown open early this morning by six men, who robbed it of between $3000 and $4000.

Town Marshal Edmonson, gagged and bound to a chair in the bank, and with his arms and legs tied by ropes, was a helpless witness to the robbery.

The robbers, who probably had been watching for him, walked upon him at an engine house, where he was examining the premises to assure himself that they were safe.

They grabbed him, bound him with ropes and gagged him.

His night stick and pistol were taken from him.

Then the men led him to the bank, took him inside and tied him to a chair.

With Edmonson out of the way, they had no more fear of the town police, for he is its sole member.

Everybody else was asleep.

With the precision and speed of experts they applied an explosive supposed to have been dynamite to the vault and fired it.

The door was wrecked at the first charge, the report of which, Edmonson says, was very loud, though it did not arouse anybody in town.

Having wrecked the vault and safe with dynamite, the robbers had little trouble in forcing an entrance to the strong box.

Edmonson could see every move of the robbers who, knowing he was securely tied and could not scream, did not pay any attention to him.

They took all the money in the safe and stowed it in bags they carried for the purpose.

Edmonson says he is sure, from the actions of the men after the robbery, that they were familiar with the town.

They conducted him directly to the school house, indicating that that plan had been agreed upon, and, taking him to the second floor, tied him to a chair at the head of the stairway.

A rope was tied around his neck, the other end being fastened to a timber above him, and the chair arranged so that if the marshal should struggle to free himself the chair would fall down the stairway and he would be hanged.

In that position he was found this morning by early callers at the school house.

It is known that after tying Edmonson at the school house the robbers boarded a passenger train, presumably for Chicago.

Edmonson says he believes he could identify some, if not all, of them.

CONVICTS PAID FOR BURIAL.

Fellow Prisoners Saved Spencer's Body From Potter's Field.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29.—The body of Arthur Spencer, the noted convict who committed suicide in the Maryland penitentiary on Thursday last, was buried today in the Western Cemetery, the expenses having been paid from a fund raised by his fellow convicts. In this way the body was saved from the potter's field.

TO LIMIT SHIPPING SUBSIDY.

Parliamentary Committee Said to Oppose General Extension.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon says it has reason to believe that the British parliamentary committee appointed to investigate the question of shipping subsidies will report adversely on any general extension of such a scheme for state aid, though under special circumstances it might be advisable to place a liberal interpretation on "services rendered to the government," instancing a possible increase of the mail subsidies on some routes.

MORGAN FIGHTS ON.

Contest With Yerkes Taken to House of Commons.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The fight between the Morgan and Yerkes interests for the control of the London "tubes" will be aired in the House of Commons tonight, when the Morgans will endeavor to get the whole house to rescind its committee's decision that their project now has no legal status.

Clinton E. Dawkins, a partner in the firm of J. S. Morgan & Co., said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"We have small hope of accomplishing anything during the session. In my opinion public sentiment is with us in this matter, because the action of the opposition was a clear breach of faith both to us and to parliament and the public. But, owing to legal and technical difficulties, I doubt the possibility of reinstating our bill this session."

OPIUM ON GOVERNMENT BOAT.

Chinese Steward Tried to Smuggle Drug Into United States.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 29.—Eighty pounds of opium, which a Chinese steward on the coast survey steamer Gedney will be charged with attempting to smuggle from Victoria to Seattle, was seized aboard the cutter by customs inspectors today. Eighty parcels, worth in the aggregate [illegible], were found in the steward's department.

Gong Gee, the steward, is in the county jail awaiting trial for attempting to smuggle a countryman between the same points on the same voyage.

A strange feature is the smuggler's cool nerve in selecting a government vessel as a vehicle with which to carry on his illegal practice [illegible]

COUNT MUST PAY IN INSTALLMENTS

Castellane Will Thus Settle $3,000,000 Debt.

GOULDS MAKE ARRANGEMENT

BUT THEY DO NOT ASSUME ANY OF OBLIGATION.

Money Must All Come From Countess' Income and, Until Terms Are Met, She Will Receive Only $200,000 a Year.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Gould estate has arranged for the payment of Count Boni de Castellane's debts, aggregating about $3,000,000, on the installment plan.

The estate, however, assumes none of the burden. The payments must all be made from the income of the countess, who was Anna Gould before her marriage.

The settlement includes the art and bric-a-brac bill for $347,327.27 which the count contracted with Asher Wertheimer, a London dealer.

As a result of the agreement all proceedings against the count and his wife will be dropped.

With the exception of Wertheimer the creditors are to be paid at the rate of 18 per cent a year. Concerning the Wertheimer obligation, the counsel for the Gould estate said:

"Under the agreement, which has been confirmed by the court, the Countess de Castellane admits an indebtedness of $347,-327.37 to Mr. Wertheimer. This practically is the full amount of his claim. We have waived the allegation that he was guilty of fraud and deceit in the sale of certain articles.

"The court directs the payment of the sum agreed upon in monthly installments, with interest at 4 per cent. From now until May 15 next payments will be $4,000 a month, and thereafter $8,000 a month, besides the interest. This agreement provides that the suit begun by Anton Dittmar of this city, as assignee of Wertheimer, which is now pending in the Court of Appeals, shall be discontinued, together with all suits and proceedings in the French courts.

"This agreement winds up the settlement of the financial affairs of the countess. Provision has now been made for the payment of all her debts, both in Europe and America, which amounted when the task was undertaken, to about $4,000,000. About 1,000,000 of this sum has been paid.

Comte de Castellane became indebted to Wertheimer through extensive purchases of paintings and furniture, vases and rare bric-a-brac, mainly of the Louis XIV period, intended for his magnificent mansion, a reproduction of the Petit Trianon, in the Avenue Malakoff, Paris. For these he signed bills of exchange and made various arrangements and promises of settlement until the estate of his wife became so involved that the Gould family and the courts were compelled to interfere.

Until the terms of the settlement are complied with, the countess will be allowed only $200,000 a year for her living expenses, which, of course, also include the count's.

MEDICAL COMPANY PURCHASE.

J. T. Ayers Concern Buys Land for New Laboratories and Farm.

A large piece of property was acquired by the newly incorporated J. T. Ayers Medicine Co. yesterday, upon which the concern [illegible] laboratories and other buildings and grow the herbs which will be used in the compounding of the medicines it manufactures.

The property is 100 feet on the east side of Seventh street, between Marceau street and the River Des Peres, which cost $30,000, and 11 acres of ground on Moline creek, near the Burlington tracks, between Baden avenue and the Gimblin road. This latter piece cost $12,000.

The estimated cost of the manufacturing plants is $20,000. The officers of the company are John S. Guhman, president and treasurer; Horace G. Putnam, vice-president, and John T. Ayers, secretary and general manager.

Hiccoughs and pains in the stomach immediately relieved by Sulphogen.

Cousin Used a Butcher Knife.

Benjamin Edwards, a barber, of 1227 Locust street, was cut on the cheek and on the wrist with a butcher knife Tuesday evening by his cousin, Charles H. Morton of 1121 Pine street.

A dispute arose between Edwards and his wife at Morton's home, where they were visiting. Morton attempted the role of peacemaker and a fight with Edwards followed.

They fought out into the street and Morton went to a neighboring store and secured the knife.

He charges that Edwards drew a razor on him. Morton is held to await the result of Edwards' injuries. The City Hospital physicians say they are serious.

Saturday and Sunday Hospital Plans.—At a meeting of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association executive board Tuesday it was decided to provide at least 20 more collection boxes this year than in former years. The collection will be on Saturday, Nov. 29.

BALLOT BOXES CAN BE OPENED

A Way Has Been Found for Checking Frauds.

WHAT SUPREME COURT HELD

NOTHING IN DECISION TO PREVENT OPENING BOXES.

The Court Simply Held That the Ballots Could Not Be Compared With Clerks' Books to Tell How Any Man Voted.

Ballot boxes can be opened in Missouri. Candidates at the coming election who have been warned that their interests will be sacrificed by the work of colonizers, repeaters and dishonest judges and clerks have been studying the law strenuously the past week and believe they have found a means for checking much of the anticipated fraud.

The manipulators of fraud rely, it is claimed, on a Supreme Court decision that the secrecy of the ballot is inviolable. This decision was popularly supposed to forbid the opening of ballot boxes, but there is nothing in it which can be construed into such a prohibition. The Supreme Court decided that the ballots in the boxes could not be compared with the records of the clerks of election to ascertain how any voter made up his ballot. This stops investigators who seek for evidence to show that changes were made in ballots after they were deposited by voters.

The records of the clerks show who voted and would be evidence in some cases of repeating and against persons who voted without being legally qualified.

By opening the boxes and counting the ballots contestants would be enabled to check the returns sent in by the officials of the precinct booths and could then ascertain the exact number of ballots, legal and otherwise cast for each candidate. No contestant or reviewing authority may in such a recount compare the number of a ballot with the number on the clerks' books to learn who cast the ballot. That is the ruling of the supreme court.

If a precinct returns show 200 ballots cast, 49 for Smith and 151 for Jones and a recount of the box shows that only 100 ballots were cast, of which Jones got 51, Smith, as a contestant, would have valuable and effective evidence. This remedy would not, however, be effective if dishonest precinct officials connived to stuff the box and place in it the whole number of ballots shown in their return. But the candidates who anticipate necessity for contest believe that in cases of such barefaced fraud they will be enabled to prove their case by the registration and precinct books and the testimony of competent watchers.

HAWES ANSWERED BOYD.

His Remarks Were the Feature of a Democratic Meeting at Stolle's Hall.

An enthusiastic Democratic meeeting was held in Stolle's Hall Tuesday evening, Thirteenth and Biddle streets, every seat being occupied and the window ledges as well.

Nick Griffin presided as chairman. The principal address was made by Police Commissioner Harry B. Hawes, who read extracts from a speech made by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd at a recent Republican rally, which he answered in detail. His points were frequently applauded.

Hiram W. Moore, candidate for Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction, followed with a pertinent address, in which the policy of the Democratic candidates was referred to. Cheers greeted his references to Mayor Wells and Circuit Attorney Folk.

John T. Hunt, candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District, made some forceful remarks and was followed by Patrick J. Clifford, Tom L. Cannon, Joseph Shaner, Robert A. Crabb and Thomas B. Crews, candidate for Judge of the Probate Court.

REPUBLICANS AT CONCORDIA.

Judge Rassieur and Others Speak on the South Side.

The rally at Concordia Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Arsenal streets, Tuesday night, was one of the largest of the Republican city campaign. Charles F. Vogel was chairman of the meeting and the chief speaker was Judge Leo Rassieur, who urged the re-election of Congressman Bartholdt, the election of Republican supreme judges and the overthrow of the Jefferson City ring. He also discussed the school fund condition.

He was followed by the following candidates: Eugene McQuillin, William H. Hahn, Barney Frauenthal, G. A. Pauley, Marion A. Murphy, Dr. E. O. Greer, Judge William Zachritz and Congressman Bartholdt. Dr. Joel D. Hubbard, who once defeated the late Richard P. Bland for Congress, was present at the meeting, but did not speak.

CULBERSON OPTIMISTIC.

Predicts Democratic Gains in the Next House of Representatives.

United States Senator Culberson of Texas registered at the Planters hotel Wednesday morning. He is en route to his home in Dallas from Massachusetts, where his family has been spending the summer.

Senator Culberson predicts marked gains in the number of Democratic congressmen in the next house. Texas will send three additional Democratic congressmen, he says.

Railroad Commissioner Allison Mayfield of Sherman and Thomas B. Love, legislative candidate from Dallas, are also at the Planters.

Former Warden J. B. Starke of the Missouri penitentiary and Solon Smith, member of the state committee from Fayette, are among the Democrats at the Laclede. Mr. Starke is now farming in Cooper county. Mr. Smith is in St. Louis to attend a meeting of the finance committee of the state committee.

AN AUTOMOBILE TRIP TO FLORIDA

WILL BE MADE BY JESSE FRENCH AND WIFE.

Jessie L. French and wife of Webster Groves will depart Thursday on an automobile trip to the Florida coast. They will be gone four months. They will travel in an eight horse-power, single cylinder machine. The weight of their machine is 1400 pounds and its speed is 30 miles an ehour. It is steers by means of a wheel.

It has a buggy top and curtains so arranged that its occupants can travel in the rain as comfortably as they could sit by a grate fire. No food and little clothing will be carried by the travelers. A large buggy box containing extra bolts and tires will be fastened to the rear of the machine. Brackets will be fastened to the sides for the purpose of carrying an extra supply of gasoline cans. Enough will be taken to last 250 miles.

This will be Mrs. French's initial trip as a long distance automobile traveler. Although her husband has made many long journeys she has never accompanied him before. He was the first man to go by automobile from St. Louis to Chicago.

His accident a few months ago in Pittsburg, when his machine was struck by a car, has not discouraged him. The man who was with him in that accident recovered, bought a new automobile and has since met with another serious accident.

Mr. and Mrs. French will visit Louisville, Nashville and Tampa. No one has as yet made a long automobile trip through the South.

First Regiment Can Pay Its Rent.

Things are looking brighter for the First Regiment, N. G. M., in the effort to liquidate the indebtedness for rent on the armory. Col. Spencer has raised $1400 of the $2250 required and has been promised sufficient subscriptions to remove the incubus. No fears that the owners will evict the regiment are entertained. A large crowd attended the monthly regimental drill at the armory, Seventeenth and Pine streets, Tuesday night.

NOV. 27 THANKSGIVING DAY

President Roosevelt Has Issued His Proclamation Designating the Date.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt today issued his proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 27, as a day of thanksgiving.

The proclamation is as follows:

"According to the yearly custom of our people, it falls upon the President at this season to appoint a day of festival and thanksgiving to God.

"Over a century and a quarter has passed since this country took its place among the nations of the earth, and during that time we have had, on the whole, more to be thankful for than has fallen to the lot of any other people. Generation after generation has grown to manhood and passed away. Each has had to bear its peculiar burdens, each to face its special crisis, and each has known years of grim trial, when the country was menaced by malice, domestic or foreign levy, when the hand of the Lord was heavy upon it in drouth or flood or pestilence, when in bodily distress and in anguish of soul it paid the penalty of foll yand a froward heart. Nevertheless, decade by decade we have struggled onward and upward; we now abundantly enjoy material well-being, and under the favor of the Most High we are striving earnestly to achieve moral and spiritual uplifting. The year that has just closed has been one of peace and of overflowing plenty. Rarely has any people enjoyed greater prosperity than we are now enjoying. For this we render heartfelt and solemn thanks to the giver of good; and we seek to praise him not by words only but by deeds, by the way in which we do our duty to ourselves and to our fellow men.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from the ordinary occupations, and in their several homes and places of worship render unto Almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1902 and of the independence of the United States the 127th.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"By the President.

"John Hay, Secretary of State."

IT'S PHIL CHEW'S BUZZARD.

Bird That Dropped on Grand Avenue Already Had an Owner.

The large buzzard which dropped to the ground at Grand and Delmar boulevard Tuesday afternoon, and was taken captive by Adolph Renard, a street inspector, belonged to Phil Chew, Jr., of 3850 Delmar boulevard, according to the statement made by R. K. Jones of 1612 Locust at the Four Courts Wednesday morning.

Mr. Jones stated to the police that the ornithological specimen escaped from its cage at the Kinloch track a week ago Saturday.

Unavailing efforts were made to find it and it was finally thought that it had flown to distant parts.

After the buzzard had fallen to the ground it lay still for several minutes and Mr. Renard grasped it so as to avoid its beak and claws.

A large crowd gathered about the buzzard, and just where it came from, whence and how, were matters of gossip for some time.

Mr. Jones says that young Chew has had the vulture for several months and that it is one of his favorite pets.

YOU CAN'T LOSE AT THIS GAME.

Play a losing game at the races and there's no recourse, grin and bear it; but lose your watch or umbrella, your pocketbook or your pearl-handled knife, and a little two-line ad in the Post-Dispatch will ring your doorbell—perhaps before sundown—and a strange hand will place the lost article before you. That's why the September record of lost and found wants in the Post-Dispatch reached 526, a gain of 53 per cent over a year ago, and aggregating twice as many as were printed in any other St. Louis newspaper.

SALE IN WESTMINSTER PLACE.

Mrs. Adeline Moriarity Buys Lot for $18,000.

John S. Carter, manager of the real estate department of the Germania Trust Company, reports the sale of No. 5257 Westminster place from C. H. Ackert to Mrs. Adeline Moriarity for $18,000. Mr. Ackert erected the house when he was general manager of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad. Upon his promotion to the position of general manager of the Southern Railway Company he placed the property in the hands of Mr. Carter, who has effected a quick sale.

Few Hospital Patients.

No patients were received at the City Hospital yesterday for a period of nearly 16 hours, or from 10:15 Monday night to 1:55 yesterday afternoon. Such a dearth of patients has never been seen by the oldest employe, and it is believed that it has never been paralleled in the history of the institution.

COLORADO FUEL CASE.

Osgood Faction Appeals to Court at St. Paul.

DENVER, Oct. 29.—A. M. Stevenson, D. C. Beaman, representing the Osgood faction in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., have left Denver for St. Paul, where, it is said, they will tomorrow morning present to Judge W. D. Sanborn of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, a petition for permission to take an appeal from the order entered by Judge Caldwell, who, sitting as United States district judge in Denver, last month, appointed a master-in-chancery to conduct the election of directors of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., and oredered the election to be held Dec 10.

If the court allows the appeal this undoubtedly will be followed by another petition for a writ of supersedeas setting aside Judge Caldwell's order.

It is considered probable Judge Sanborn will set a date in the near future when arguments will be heard before a full bench on the granting of the supersedeas. In that case arguments will be heard in St. Louis.

For a Fair Election.

The Republican city central committee has adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, By the Republican city central committee that a public appeal be made by this organization to all citizens, irrespective of party, to the press, the Merchants' Exchange, Business Men's League the World's Fair directory, the St. Louis Manufacturers' Association and all other kindred as well as labor, social and religious organizations to exercise their best efforts to insure a fair election next Tuesday by preventing any partisan interference by police or other officials or persons in the discharge of their duty by lending the moral support of their presence at the polls.

Twentieth Ward Republican Club.—A mass meeting will be held under the auspices of the Twentieth Ward Republican Club at Northwestern Hall, St. Louis and Elliot avenues, Thursday evening. The speakers will be Hon. Chas. F. Joy, Luther Smith, C. W. Rutledge, C. A. Welsh, Thos. Campbell and candidates of the city Republican ticket. H. S. Parker, president of the club, will act as chairman. All the Republicans are invited to this grand rally, as it will be the last chance to hear the candidates before the election.

Mentioned for Coadjutor.

According to a dispatch from Wichita, Kan., Bishop Hennessy of that city, formerly pastor of St. John's Catholic Church of St. Louis, is the latest "dark horse" mentioned for coadjutor to Archbishop Kain. A letter received in Wichita yesterday from a priest who has just returned from Rome states that Rev. Father Harty of St. Leo's Church will be appointed auxiliary bishop, that later on Bishop Hennessy will be appointed coadjutor, with the right of succession. Bishop Hennessy, in speaking of the matter yesterday, did not place much credence in the report, attributing its rise to the fact that he had made frequent trips to St. Louis recently to attend to Archbishop Kain's duties during the latter's illness.

AIRSHIPS AS PLEASURE CRAFT.

Octave Chanute of Chicago, who has devoted many years of study to flying machines, lectured on "Aerial Navigation" Tuesday night before the Washington University Association.

Only within the last few years, Mr. Chanute said, has the subject been studied scientifically. A few years ago, he stated, the flying machines constructed were equipped with steam engines weighing 300 pounds to the horsepower. Now this has been reduced to 10 pounds to the horsepower, he explained. Prof. Chanute said the flying machine for commercial purposes was yet of distant realization.

"For purposes of sport and recreation," he said, "the flying machine will eventually be in general use. "The problem has been solved and it is only necessary to apply the knowledge gained to the construction of a suitable machine."

The French held, Mr. Chanute observed, that the American idea of building flying machines is the wrong solution of the problem and that the dirigible balloon is the proper solution. So far, Mr. Chanute averred, the French idea has proved correct.

Burlington Route

NEW ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS SERVICE

November 2d, the Burlington inaugurates passenger service of two complete through trains daily, in each direction, between St. Louis and St. Paul and Minneapolis, over its West Side line and the Burlington-Cedar Rapids main line of the Rock Island System—newly built from Albert Lea to the "Twin Cities."

Departures from St. Louis are:

"TWIN CITY EXPRESS," 2:15 P. M.

"NIGHT NORTHERN EXPRESS," 7:40 P. M.

This expansion of the Burlington's passenger service between St. Louis and central and northern Iowa and Minnesota will not only strengthen this popular route as a carrier of travel between the north and south, but it is a forward move, in anticipation of the World's Fair, to bring this valuable northern territory into closer connection with "The New St. Louis."

Pass Situation Same in West.

The annual pass meeting of representatives of almost all the railroads operating west of Chicago, held yesterday at the Southern Hotel, resulted in the reaffirmation of the agreement governing the issuance of free or reduced transportation which was in effect in 1902.

A special committee was appointed to confer with members of the trunk lines, and it will report at another meeting to be held at the Southern on Dec. 2. The sentiment is in favor of an exchange of passes for railroad employes, and the committee is empowered to propose reciprocal exchange. It is believed that the anti-pass sentiment in the East, after a year's trial, has perceptibly weakened and will result in a reciprocal, if somewhat restricted, exchange of free transportation for next year all over the country.

About 40 railroads and systems are in the western agreement and nearly all of these were represented at [illegible]

SCHWAB ASTOUNDS ITALIANS

Lavish Expenditure of Money by the Steel Trust's President Causes Much Gossip.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The following dispatch from Rome is published by a paper here this morning:

"Americans here are discussing the remarkable actions of Charles M. Schwab, who is astonishing the Italians by his recklessness in spending money. As an example of this the following incidents are related:

"Mr. Schwab recently engaged a special train from Venice to Milan and was told that the charge for it would be 2000 lire, the English equivalent of which would be about 80 pounds sterling, or about $400.

"Instead of sending his check for this amount, Mr. Schwab sent his note to the railroad people for £2000, or about $10,000. He was very much surprised to receive back the railroad people's check for 48,000 lire, the equivalent of £1820, or about $9690, that being the difference between what Mr. Schwab paid and the charges.

"While at Lake Como last week Mr. Schwab chartered a lake steamer, upon which he rushed up and down the lake several times a day. Then he ordered an automobile sent from Paris, and when that arrived he alternated his maritime exploits with short dashes along the road.

"Finally he added a two-horse carriage to his vehicles, using the three modes of travel alternately."

The most economical of all.

ALL HIS LIFE IN REBELLION

Picturesque Career of Gen. Rafeal Uribe-Uribe.

NOW A PRISONER OF WAR

SURRENDERED TO COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT FORCES.

This Event Foreshadows Early Peace on the Isthmus and an End of the War Which Has Continued for Two Years.

GEN. URIBE-URIBE.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Official dispatches confirm the Panama report of the surrender of the rebel general, Rafeal Uribe-Uribe, with 2500 men, 10 pieces of artillery and a large amount of ammunition.

This event foreshadows the end of the rebellion and early peace on the isthmus.

Gen. Uribe-Uribe is one of the most picturesque characters ever developed on the isthmus. He is only 40 years old, tall, athletic and unsmiling. He came to the United States two years ago with a number of his staff, including R. Perez, his private secretary, whose wife is a Chicago girl. Even at that time the revolution was well under way, and Gen. Uribe-Uribe directed its operations for several weeks from his Broadway hotel. While in this country he made friends with several prominent business men, who were impressed with his plain sincerity and his patriotic fervor.

Uribe-Uribe was born up in the mountains of Antochia, in the interior of Colombia and on the crest of the Andes. His mother was famous for her beauty, while his father was an athlete and rancher. Gen. Uribe-Uribe has been a factor in every revolution since 1876.

Uribe-Uribe was a rebel at 16 and has been fighting most of the time since.

His first battles were fought in the revolution of 1875.

At the outbreak of the revolution in 1885—the year of the American occupation of the isthmus—Uribe joined the Liberal ranks, and as the commander of a division, took part in the disastrous battle of Tribuna.

This defeat ended his career in that campaign.

The ways of peace did not hold him long, for when the revolution of 1895 broke out Uribe at once cast his lot with the Liberals and marched a small force of rebels all the way from Cundinamarca to Tolima. A crushing defeat dispersed his forces. Alone he made his way back to Antioquia, where he proceeded to raise new revolutionary levies.

While thus engaged he was made a prisoner, but presently escaped and returned to Tolima, whence he passed with a small force to the mountains in Santander, and then to the Magdalena river. While crossing the river he was caught between two forces and was taken captive.

As a prisoner of war he was confined for six months in the famous Las Bovelas cells of the fortress in the harbor at Cartagena. From there he was taken to Bogota to be tried for high treason, but before the date set for the trial he was amnested, together with all other political prisoners in Colombia.

The revolutionary standard was raised anew in 1899 at Bucaramanga. Uribe was proclaimed the Liberal leader.

Hastening to the scene of action he took charge of the revolutionary forces and began his campaign of Santander—a campaign famous chiefly for its brilliant defeats.

"True generalship," said Uribe-Uribe, "is shown not so much during a battle as afterward. With equal forces, when all is said, the issue of a battle is always more or less a matter of luck.

"A good general has a chance to show his qualities after the battle, either by the vigor of his pursuit, in case of victory, or contrariwise by his steadfast conduct in retreat. Defeats are more trying to the soul than victories. I regret to say that my lessons of war have been largely learned in defeat."

The campaign of Santander began for Uribe with a desperate defense against the overwhelming assault of the government troops.

Retreat followed disaster after disaster, until Uribe's dwindling forces were utterly dispersed on Aug. 10 in the crushing defeat of Zapatoca. With but three followers Uribe made his way to the coast, traversing the enemy's lines under cover of night.

In September, 1900, Uribe reassumed the offensive with 20 followers, all told, but met with continued disaster.

Uribe, with the help of friends, reached Rio Hacha. Alone he traversed the Goajira peninsula, and embarking at Maracaibo sailed to Curocoa, the haven for South American refugees. There he met his chief, Gen. Vargos Santos, and laid the plans for the next year's campaign.

The first sinews of war for this campaign were raised by Uribe-Uribe in New York early in 1901.

CANAL NEGOTIATIONS DELAYED

Colombia's Minister Nettles State Department by His Attitude.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—There is a serious hitch in the Panama canal negotiations, which have been practically suspended because of it.

Minister Concha, whose recall may be demanded because of his attitude, apparently is holding up the protocol on his own account.

His excuse is founded on the action of Rear Admiral Casey, who boarded the Bogota, Capt. Marmaduke's flagship, upon her arrival in Colombian waters and demanded to see her papers to ascertain whether she had a right to use the Colombian flag.

Minister Concha says that, inasmuch as the vessel was in Colombian waters, Admiral Casey's action was an "unlawful assumption of sovereignty."

Resumption of the negotiations depends entirely upon additional instructions which Minister Concha expects to receive from his government at Bogota. The state department is surprised and apparently nettled at Minister Concha's course of action in delaying proceedings in accordance with instructions received from his government until his government has concluded negotiations which, it is stated, are in progress at Bogota looking toward an interpretation of the treaty of 1846, under which Rear Admiral Casey has acted in preserving the free transit of the Panama Railroad by preventing the transportation of Colombian troops campaigning against the revolutionists.

Officers of the St. Patrick's Church Fair in Progress in East St. Louis

St. Patrick's Church Fair opened last night at Music Hall, with the largest first night attendance record made for years. Many persons were present because of the drills and songs given by the pupils of St. Patrick's School. The boys and girls were dressed to represent different ceilings and in singing the national songs they carried American flags.

The different contests—the voting for the county and state officials, the voting for the most popular organization and the voting for the most popular young woman in East St. Louis—all began with spirit.

Wednesday afternoon a euchre party was given under the management of the Queen's Daughters. It was largely attended.

The tables of the different societies connected with the church form the feature of the hall decoration. That of the Junior Ladies' Sodality is especially attractive.

The fair and all the contests will close Thursday evening. Friday evening the Patrician Club will give a Hallowe'en dance in Music Hall. The officers of the fair will be guests of honor at this function.

POLICEMAN REEDY IS DEAD

Was Fatally Shot by Robert Walsh While Walsh Was Firing at Burglars.

Policeman Michael Reedy died at the city hospital at 8 o'clock last night from the effects of a bullet wound in the right lung.

Reedy was accidentally shot by Robert Walsh, a clerk in a pharmacy at Tenth street and Cass avenue, early Sunday morning.

Walsh from his room at the opposite side of the street saw burglars attempting to enter the drug store and fired at them. Policeman Reedy heard the shooting and ran toward the drug store. As he turned the corner one of Walsh's bullets struck him in the breast.

In an ante-mortem statement Reedy exonerated Walsh. The policeman was 33 years of age and resided with his sister, Mrs. Joseph Vaughn, at 4110 North Twentieth street. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Retail Shoe Dealers Meet.

The Retail Shoe Dealers' Association held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the St. Nicholas Hotel. The attendance was the largest since the organization of the association. The association is considering the matter of joining the national association of the retail shoe dealers, its present strength putting the local body along with the best in the country.

Nugents Crowded.

Dry goods salvage from two great auction sales, one in Chicago, the other in St. Louis, bought last week by the firm of B. Nugent & Bro Dry Goods Co. for a fraction of its real worth—advertised in yesterday's Post-Dispatch—put on sale this morning, crowded the store with customers eager to obtain the great bargains in desirable, reliable, seasonable merchandise.

Immense quantities were bought, so the sale will be continued tomorrow and until every article, every piece of these great purchases have been sold.

Starkloff's Rules Not Accepted.

There is variance between Health Commissioner Starkloff and the Board of Health because rules submitted by President Hornsby governing the method of conducting the city bacteriologist's office, were approved in preference to a set of rules Mr. Starkloff has submitted to the board for the same purpose.

The president's rules provide that no tests are to be made for physicians, but for individual persons only; the health commissioner is given no authority to order investigations in urgent cases and his authority to approve vouchers and bills from the bacteriologist's office is not recognized.

HARRIS PRAISES ROOSEVELT

Kansas Senator Says Republicans Will Drop Him and Democrats Will Nominate Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 29.—United States Senator W. A. Harris, a Democrat, made a remarkable prediction in a speech at Howard, Elk county. After paying a glowing tribute to President Roosevelt because of his anti-trust attitude, Senator Harris said:

"Roosevelt cannot be bulldozed or run by J. Pierpont Morgan and the big trust magnates. As soon as they find it out they will force the Republicans to drop him.

"Then the Democrats will pick Roosevelt up, nominate him for President, and elect him."

Republican Meetings Arranged.

Meetings for every night this week in the Twelfth District have been arranged by George B. Teasdale, chairman of the district Republican committee. They will be addressed by Col. George D. Reynolds, candidate for the long term, and George C. R. Wagoner for the short term, and others. The meeting tonight at the Wedge House, Beaumont and Laclede avenues, will be addressed by Gen. John W. Noble, Matt. G. Reynolds and others. Thursday night's meeting, in Freimuth's hall, 539 Manchester avenue, will be addressed by Judge Withrow, Col. Reynolds, Mr. Wagoner, Gen. George Shields and former Congressman Hubbard. Friday night's meeting will be held at the Republican hall, 210 North Ewing avenue. Nathan Frank will preside. A rally for colored voters will be held Saturday evening at True Reformers' Hall, Jefferson avenue and Pine street. Colored orators will make addresses.

Entertainment for St. Agnes.

St. Agnes Parish will give an entertainment and dance Tuesday evening at Lemp's Park Hall, Thirteenth and Utah streets. An excellent program has been arranged for the occasion. It includes such well-known amateurs as Messrs. Weissert and Rogers, Charles E. Blune, Chester Schelle, Ed Doherty, Caspar Kargnus, Miss Flanagan, Miss Margaret Placke and La Petite Mathilde.

To Sportsmen.

SOUGHT DEATH IN STRANGER'S HOME

Woman Broke Into House to Commit Suicide.

DISROBED FOR DEATH WATCH

Owner, Awakened by Hideous Dream, Was Alarmed by Odor and He Started Investigation That Saved Intruder's Life.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—George W. Curtis of Bergen Point knows he has a nice home but until today was unaware that it possessed any special advantages for those who had determined to shuffle off this mortal coil.

Nevertheless, Carrie Pohlman, with whom Mr. Curtis had no acquaintance, was found using his illuminating gas for suicidal purposes early this morning. She does not profess to have had any claim to his hospitality.

It is not certain that her name is Carrie Pohlman. Sometimes she says it is. She is good looking and intelligent and is 41 years old. She says she is unmarried.

It was between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning when she went to the back of Mr. Curtis' house and broke a pane of glass in the kitchen door an inch or two from the bottom, inserted her hand and forced back the bolt.

She lighted one of the gas jets and set about preparing for death. She had been for hours in the heavy rain, and her clothing was soaked. One by one she removed her garments and hung them so that they would dry by the fire.

Dressed Carefully for Death Watch.

Her next act was to unwrap a small parcel which contained a clean white nightgown, trimmed with lace and decorated at the throat with pink ribbon.

The woman then went to three gas jets and a large gas range and turned on all the burners. She took from the pocket of her dress a small vial containing iodine, which she had bought a few hours earlier. Having done all this, she put out the light.

She lay down on the kitchen table and put the vial to her lips. The poison evidently burned her so that she could not bear the pain, for she drank only a small quantity and dropped the bottle. Within a few minutes the gas filled the closed room and she was insensible.

Mr. Curtis and his family and the housemaid were asleep on the floor above the kitchen. Mrs. Curtis said her husband was awakened by a frightful dream, in which a spectre appeared and cried out to him:

"George Curtis, the hand of death is pointing at you!"

Curtis Aroused by Dreadful Dream.

Mr. Curtis awoke with a start and at once detected a strong odor of gas. He went down stairs and, as he flung open the kitchen door, he was staggered.

Afraid to light a match, for fear there would be an explosion, he groped his way about the room.

The rain was falling in torrents, and it was very dark.

After feeling about the room for several minutes and becoming weak from the gas, Mr. Curtis reached the table and touched the woman's body. He gave a cry of alarm and, running up stairs, awoke his family, shouting:

"There is a dead man down in the kitchen!"

The members of the family ran down stairs and every window was opened. The gas soon escaped, and then it was found that the body on the table was that of a woman.

Mr. Curtis rushed to the street, fired several shots from his revolver, and yelled for the police. This awoke every person on the block, and several went to the Curtis house.

A policeman sent for an ambulance and Carrie Pohlman was taken to the hospital.

Four hours later she recovered consciousness and told the doctors that she attempted suicide because she had been unable to secure employment.

ST. LUKE'S CORNER STONE.

Will Be Laid Saturday Afternoon With Appropriate Services.

The cornerstone of the new St. Luke's Hospital, in course of construction at the northwest corner of Delmar and Belt avenues, will be laid at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Bishop D. S. Tuttle of the Episcopal Church will deliver an address and music will be furnished by a large surpliced choir.

The new hospital will cost $400,000 and the contract for the complete structure has already been let. The new hospital will be up-to-date in all its appointments.

William H. Thomson is chairman of the board of directors. The present St. Luke's Hospital is at Nineteenth street and Washington avenue.

Aged Teamster Severely Hurt.—Henry Kohlester, a teamster, 64 years old, who lives at 5746 Maffitt avenue, was seriously hurt in a runaway at Clara and Easton avenues yesterday afternoon. He was standing on the wagon tongue while watering his team, when an automobile passed, frightening the horses.

Before he could regain the wagon seat, his team bolted, and the old man was caught and held in the double-trees. His head and hands were badly lacerated before policemen stopped the runaways, and at the City Hospital it was found that several of the old man's ribs were broken.

EX-MAYOR'S DAUGHTER TO WED

Dr. H. L. Neitert and Miss Katherine Ziegenhein Will Be Married Wednesday Evening.

Dr. H. L. Neitert, superintendent of the City Hospital, will be married to Miss Katherine Ziegenhein, daughter of former Mayor Ziegenhein, Wednesday night. The ceremony will be performed at Mayor Ziegenhein's residence, 3321 South Thirteenth street. On account of the recent death of Mrs. Ziegenhein, the wedding will be a private one, and only intimate friends and relatives will attend. There will be no attendants.

Dr. and Mrs. Nietert will spend their honeymoon in the South. During Dr. Neitert's absence Dr. Louis Rassieur will be in charge at the City Hospital.

FIVE GENERATIONS SHOWN.

Photograph Whose Originals Represent a Total of 293 Years.

A photograph of the representatives of five generations who reside in one home at Grattan, Kent County, Michigan, is in the possession of Mrs. O. H. Brooks of 3123 Morgan street, who is a niece of the head of this interesting family represented in the portrait.

The picture shows Mrs. Catherine Roe, her daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Malone; her grand-daughter, Mrs. Mary Doyle; her great-grandson, James Boyle, and her great-great-grandson, James Boyle, Jr. Mrs. Roe is now 94 years old and the child in the group is 6 years of age. All are in excellent health, and the old lady is as active as she was 40 years ago, says Mrs. Brooks.

It is said that Mrs. Roe has over 200 descendants. The combined ages of the group in the photograph is 293 years.

Warrant for Jenks.—A warrant was issued Tuesday against Ernest Jenks of 4735 Newcomb place charging assault and battery. It was issued on complaint of Mrs. Ola Newcomb, who alleges that he struck her in the eye and inflicted a gash in her forehead.

WARRANTS FOR TICKET BROKERS

FIVE OF THEM CITED TO APPEAR IN POLICE COURT.

SEVERAL CASES AGAINST EACH

Upon affidavits furnished City Attorney Perry Taylor that official Wednesday morning issued warrants against a number of ticket brokers charging them with violating ordinance No. 19,991, with relation to the sale of non-transferrable railway tickets.

The brokers against whom warrants were sworn out are Charles Leonard, 4 cases; Max Schubach, 5; E. J. Gildersleeve, 2; Simon Steiner, 4; Wasserman Investment Co., 2. The defendants are cited to appear for trial in the First District Police Court Nov. 11.

City Attorney Taylor declined to say whether the railway companies were allied in a war on the ticket "scalpers."

"The parties pushing the prosecution first brought the matter to the attention of the city councilor's office," he stated to the Post-Dispatch. "They were told to refer it to me. I informed them that if they furnished me with the proper information the warrants would be issued. Affidavits of the alleged violations were then placed in my possession and the complaints were sworn out.

"The penalty for each offense is a fine of not less than $200 or more than $500. The parties who swore to the affidavits are H. S. Penn, Charles W. Pierce, George O'Hara, Harry B. Rolfe, A. Scarpa and E. G. Adams."

MRS. JENNIE MORRIS,

Secretary of Poinsettia Benevolence Society,

MILWAUKEE, WIS.

623 Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., March 22, 1902.

Only a wife and mother can fully understand the grand benefit which Wine of Cardui is in cases of barrenness and pregnancy. After five years of married life most of the time in ill health, with irregular, scanty and extremely painful menstruation I became completely discouraged. I kept getting worse and worse. The doctor said that if I could have a child I would be much better, but inflammation had set in and I was in such poor health generally that I was simply unfit to be a mother. My sister had a beautiful boy and she told me what benefit she had derived from Wine of Cardui so my husband decided that we would stop the doctor's visits and try Cardui. I wish I had only known of this before. What misery I would have been spared! But I was grateful for the speedy relief I obtained, and so pleased to find that I gradually was returning to health, happiness and new life and hope. Within four months I was like a changed being and now found that the long hoped for happiness was to be mine as I expected a child. I kept taking Wine of Cardui all through my pregnancy and a lovely daughter blessed our home. Childbirth was almost painless and my husband and I both thank you a thousand times for the sunshine and happiness Wine of Cardui brought to our home.

Jennie Morris.

THE greatest ambition of men and women is to have happy homes blessed with healthy children. Because wives are weak and sick thousands of homes are barren and desolate. How many there are today suffering irregularities and bearing down pains, menaced with the probability of becoming childless wives. Thousands of heretofore childless wives are becoming mothers by having these troubles relieved by Wine of Cardui. This great remedy so strengthens the organs of motherhood that nervous, discouraged women who want children but who fear the suffering caused by childbirth, go through motherhood with little trouble. By strengthening the organs weakened by sickness Wine of Cardui makes all this possible. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception, does prevent miscarriage, does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer and treat yourself in the privacy of your home with this great remedy. Where digestive di[s]turbances exist a small package of Thedford's Black-Draught should also be used.

REPUBLICANS URGE PRESIDENT TO HELP

WANT HIM TO PLEAD FOR PARTY'S SUCCESS.

DEMOCRATS GAINING GROUND

Outlook Grows Brighter for Them in Several States and Opponents Are Alarmed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Republican managers of New York and other states where the Democratic chances are represented to be steadily improving, have asked President Roosevelt to take a hand in the fight to save their states.

Particularly strong is the appeal that comes from New York.

The President has so far declined to interfere in any of the state or congressional fights, but it is not improbable that he may be induced to write a letter in response to invitations to attend some of the wind-up meetings of the campaign, in which he will make known his views and urge the election of the Republican candidates.

The requests for aid come not alone from New York, but from Pennsylvania, where many Republican candidates for Congress are threatened with defeat, as well as from Illinois, Ohio, Iowa and Michigan.

If the President decides to respond to the call for help he will probably do so in a general letter that can be used with general effect in all the states.

St. Louisan Elected President.

Dispatches to the Post-Dispatch announce that Lewis Flader of St. Louis was elected president of the international organization of photo-engravers at its convention in Cincinnati Tuesday. Charles Clark of Denver was elected vice-president, Charles Stewart of Chicago secretary and Good Bronson of St. Paul treasurer.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and, in fact, everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

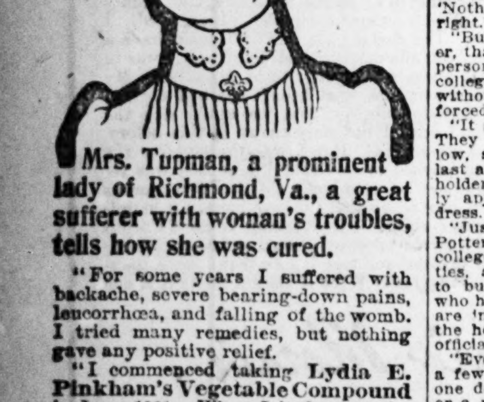

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin, diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best-known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

Mrs. Tupman, a prominent lady of Richmond, Va., a great sufferer with woman's troubles, tells how she was cured.

"For some years I suffered with backache, severe bearing-down pains, leucorrhœa, and falling of the womb. I tried many remedies, but nothing gave any positive relief.

"I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in June, 1901. When I had taken the first half bottle, I felt a vast improvement, and have now taken ten bottles with the result that I feel like a new woman. When I commenced taking the Vegetable Compound I felt all worn out and was fast approaching complete nervous collapse. I weighed only 98 pounds. Now I weigh 109½ pounds and am improving every day. I gladly testify to the benefits received."—Mrs. R. C. Tupman, 423 West 30th St., Richmond, Va.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?" Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has just the knowledge that will help your case—it costs nothing.

THE COAL BARONS

DESPITE REBUKE

BLOCK THE WAY

Hampering in Many Ways the Arbitration Board.

STILL FIGHTING THE UNION

ITS RECOGNITION HAS NO PLACE IN THEIR PLANS.

John Wanamaker Draws a Gloomy Picture of the Conditions in His State Out of Which Grew the Coal Miners' Strike.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Smarting under the rebuke of the people of the United States, voiced in every newspaper in the land, the coal barons were forced into quasi acceptance of President Roosevelt's plan to end the strike.

The strike has ended, the miners are at work and the process of settlement has begun.

But if the people of the country think the coal barons have accepted the spirit of the President's propositions they are vastly mistaken.

Right at the threshold of the work of the arbitration commission it is clearly apparent that the coal mine and coal railway owners propose, if posible, to nullify the vital purpose of the commission—arbitration between employer and employed. President Baer insists that the commission must deal with each mining property separately; another baron, Thomas, insists that the commission is to merely "investigate"—not "arbitrate."

A third, Truesdale, proposes to eliminate John Mitchell from the inquiry so far as his 12,000 employes are concerned. He wants the commission to receive a committee from his men to present their case.

The whole trend of their objection is plain—the coal barons are still fighting the union, and mean to fight it to the last.

This is demonstrated in another way. A movement is now on foot to have the Pennsylvania legislature repeal the act requiring every miner to pass a rigid examination and obtain a certificate from the miners' examining board.

The repeal of this act would permit the employment of inexperienced men in positions where long training and great care are necessary to avoid disaster.

The law was passed to prevent accidents and therefore to protect the lives of workingmen. But it had a result which had not been foreseen, in that it formed an impregnable citadel of strength to the miners' cause. Had there been no restrictions, the mines would have been filled with unskilled laborers as soon as the strike was declared, and the organization would have been forced to ignominious surrender. Having discovered this fact at great cost, the operators are ready to kill the law which strengthens the organization of their employes.

In an interview John Wanamaker, the merchant and philanthropist, explains how the coal baron sretain their grip on Pennsylvania.

"This is a sunken state," he said gravely. "I mean that literally. It is not on the surface of the map," stretching his hand out over the top of the table. "Not on the map level with the rest of the country. It is sunken.

"Certain of the trusts," he continued, "have for years violated the constitution of the state, and the people are powerless, for, with the legislature and other branches of the government under absolute control of the machine, where can they go with hope of a hearing?

"The constitution forbids any railway in Pennsylvania from mining or manufacturing articles which are to be carried over its lines. For years the coal railroads have openly violated that provision of the organic law by various circumlocutions. Quay's governor and Quay's creatures in other branches of the state government make it impossible to prosecute the violators of the constitution. There is no attempt at concealment. The fundamental law is broken and the civil power is inert.

"The gang which rules the state, from the governor down, makes the courts seem almost useless. It buys or otherwise 'fixes' the juries. No one who cares to get the facts will question this.

"We have many times stirred the public conscience, but the gang still steals the votes wholesale. The corruption of our system is notorious. Many have hoped that the honest vote in the country districts might save Pennsylvania from her present woful plight, but the Quay methods will prevail so long as the corporations will furnish the money, and interfere in all important elections of legislators.

"The miners are inevitably tending toward socialism, and so are other workingmen. They turn to anything that seems to promise relief. But the relief they need can be found only in the complete overthrow of the corrupt and law-defying ring which controls the dominant politics of the state. Lincoln was right when he said: 'Nothing is settled until it is settled right.'"

"But it seems incredible, Mr. Wanamaker, that a rich and old community of 7,000,000 persons, with schools and churches and colleges and well-developed industries, is without power to have its organic law enforced?"

"It seems strange, but the fact is plain. They buy every vote they want, high or low, singly or by the dozen. This is the last analysis of every contest. The officeholders form a political trust, and politically appointed courts block the way of redress.

"Justice in Pennsylvania is Salterized and Potterized. State funds, appropriated to colleges, universities, hospitals and charities, are manipulated, just as offices are, to buy off opposition, to subsidize those who have opposed the Quay machine. They are in some way caught and corralled by the hope and promise of public place and official favor.

"Even the churches and clergymen, with a few brave exceptions, are silent. If any one dares to inject into a church council or a prayer meeting a hint of the duty of the church membership in this crisis the silence increases and finally the clergyman announces a hymn and pronounces the benediction.

A Mont Pelee Is Needed.

"Nothing but a patriotic Mont Pelee can destroy the power that defies the Constitution and circumvents the laws. It must be a tremendous upheaval. The continued defiance of the Constitution and laws of Pennsylvania by the corporations, in the very teeth of the great struggle which has stricken the country, and the continued refusal of the Governor and the Attorney-General to enforce the laws or punish the criminals, is a frightful example to set before the great multitude of workingmen.

"These men, the toilers, have borne themselves manfully toward society and its laws all through the agonizing ordeal which has just ended. What a contrast between the law-abiding work people and the law-defying corporations!

"In saying this I am not the enemy of corporations, but always friendly so long as they keep within the law as strictly as they request the poor man to do."

"There is only one ray of hope. That is President Roosevelt's determination to make the corporations amenable to the laws, as private citizens are; to punish law-breakers under existing statutes, and beyond that to protect the public and curb ... by enacting more ...

MEXICO MAY TURN TO GOLD

Republic is Reported to Favor Yellow Currency Basis if Chance Is Feasable.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Reports are in circulation in financial circles here that plans are being discussed for the establishment of the Mexican currency on a gold basis.

Some of the large banking houses are said to have been sounded, with a view to procuring enough gold to rehabilitate the system.

Those said to be interested in the matter refuse to discuss it.

HANGING WAS GENUINE.

The Fatal Resuts of a Negro Boy's Play.

OXFORD, Miss., Oct. 29.—Emanuel Crump, a 14-year-old negro boy who had witnessed the hanging of Mathis and Lester here, secured a plow line and hung it over a tree limb and arranged a noose for a mock hanging of himself. He stood on a milk jar and placed his head in the noose. In some manner he knocked the jar away and when found he was dead.

MISSION YACHT DOVE SOLD

Countess Schimmelmann's Charity and Religious Vessel Will Be Converted Into a Houseboat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Countess Adeline Schimmelmann has sold her mission yacht, the Deun, or Dove, which has been idle for some time in a Brooklyn yacht basin. The noted vessel will be rebuilt into a houseboat.

Countess Schimmelmann purchased the Duen from Prince Waldemar of Denmark in 1895. After becoming the property of the Countess, the yacht, in 1897, visited 58 ports in Germany, Denmark, England, Sweden and Italy, distributing tracts. She also visited 652 ships on the same mission.

With a crew of eight men, the Duen reached the Great Lakes and cruised there in 1898, with the owner on board. For some time the boat lay at Chicago and, while there, 84,000 meals were served on board to the poor of the city.

ALPHA ENTERTAINS OFFICERS

Legion of Honor Function at the Odeon Last Night Full of Enthusiasm.

Supreme officers of the Legion of Honor last night visited Alpha Council in Doric Hall at the Odeon. After the initiation of a large number of candidates the guests were escorted to the large banquet hall and an informal supper was served.

The supreme officers have visited all the councils of the order during the past month and have been met everywhere by large attendance and evidences of enthusiasm, but last night the attendance was larger than at any of the other councils and evidences of growth in the order were not lacking.

Speeches were made by Chancellor Chas. A. Houts and Supreme Chancellor Oberbeck. An entertaining program was followed under the direction of Chairman E. D. Rae, which included coon songs by "Admiral" Dewey Hickey, the Knickerbocker Quartet, Harry Webber and Harry Wood.

FOOTBALL VICTIM'S FUNERAL

One Thousand Persons Attended the Burial of Edward Schmidt at Staunton, Ill.

Dispatches to the Post-Dispatch announce that Edward Schmidt, the youth who died from injuries received in a football game at Staunton, Ill., Sunday, was buried with unusual honors. It was the largest funeral held in Staunton in many years, 1000 persons following the remains to the cemetery.

Services were held at the Schmidt home by the Knights of Pythias early in the afternoon. Later there were services at St. Paul's Evangelical church, in charge of Rev. C. W. Knicker.

From the church to the cemetery the funeral procession was headed by the Staunton band, of which Schmidt was a member, the Mount Olive band and the Gillespie band.

Members of the football team, which disbanded after Schmidt's death, marched on either side of the hearse. The casket was covered with flowers. In the procession were members of the miners' union, to which Schmidt belonged, the Knights of Pythias and the Modern Woodmen.

SCHOOL RULES ARE VIOLATED

Candidate Paul Young, Jr., Passed Stickers to Children at Des Peres School.

F. C. Reinecke, janitor of the Des Peres public school, Michigan avenue and Iron street, Carondelet, has reported to Superintendent Soldan of the Board of Education an alleged violation of the board's rules by Paul Young, Jr., Democratic candidate for recorder of deeds.

Reinecke alleges that Mr. Young and two friends appeared at the school gate at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning and distributed a large number of "stickers" bearing Mr. Young's photograph and campaign announcement, to the school children. The rules of the public schools, it appears, prohibit the distribution of campaign literature about the school houses or yards. Reinecke attempted to make Mr. Young and his friends desist. They refused, and he sent for policemen. They advised him, Reinecke alleges, to drop the matter and refused to interfere.

SYRUP OF FIGS

Acts Gently;
Acts Pleasantly;
Acts Beneficially;
Acts truly as a Laxative.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially.

...O AFTER VREELAND

...ous Tempting Offer for Him to Take Charge of London Tube Construction Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Charles T. Yerkes, who has just scored against J. Pierpont Morgan in their strife for the control of the new London underground railroads, has made a tempting offer to Herbert H. Vreeland, president of the Metropolitan Street Railway of this city to go to London, direct the construction of the new tube and manage the railroad when it is completed.

Mr. Vreeland was a section hand on the Long Island railroad 20 years ago. Two years ago William C. Whitney and other big men in the Metropolitan company gave him $100,000 as a present for obtaining the Third Avenue line for them.

ABSORBING PROBLEM

Of the Present Day.

The absorbing problem of today is how to expand one's income so as to attain the best results; that is, get full value for one's money.

It may truthfully be said that this has been, is, and always will be, an absorbing problem to those with limited means; but the fact remains that, with the price of living necessities constantly rising, one must husband one's resources more carefully than ever before if he would live within his income. In saying that prices are rising, we except one article which has come to occupy a prominent place in the family medicine closet, and that is the specific for piles or hemorrhoids known as Pyramid Pile Cure; this remedy is still sold by druggists at the old prices of fifty cents and one dollar, and these prices will remain unchanged. Those to whom this preparation has brought relief and a cure after years of suffering do not need to be told of its merits; others are advised that it is the greatest boon ever discovered, to all those afflicted with any form of piles; it is in suppository form, is easily applied, reaches the seat of the complaint, and gives immediate relief and a lasting cure.

The reader may have tried salves, ointments and lotions without benefit, and feeling that his money has been wasted, resolves to suffer on rather than experiment farther. The reason for the failure of these treatments is, that they do not reach the seat of the trouble, and hence do not remove the cause, as does Pyramid Pile Cure. A little book describing piles, their cause and cure, is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and anyone may procure a copy by sending name and address to above firm. As showing the estimation in which this remedy is held by the public it may interest the reader to know that its sales now exceed those of all other pile remedies combined.

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM

Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald.

Modern science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp in scales, as it burrows down to the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and ultimately baldness. After Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed until the great laboratory discovery was made which resulted in Newbro's Herpicide. It alone of all other hair preparations, kill the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair grows luxuriantly. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Send 10c in stamps. MAYOR SPEAKS FOR DEMOCRATS

His Initial Address of the Campaign.

NEW ST. LOUIS A REALITY

ADDRESS AT BOHEMIAN GYMNASIUM LAST NIGHT.

"We Must Continue Our Labors With Harmony and Without Partisan Feeling in Office," He Declared.

Mayor Wells delivered his initial speech of the campaign at the Bohemian Gymnasium, Ninth street and Allen avenue, Tuesday night.

Among other things, he said:

"In a few days the people of this city will have the opportunity, through their right of suffrage, to determine what is best for their municipal government.

"The question is: Will they determine to act for that which is right and in line with good government, or will they be led into pitfalls through partisan leadership?

"I do not appear before you as a party man, but simply as a public official and citizen who is anxious to see our municipal affairs conducted in a manner that will redound to the general public welfare.

"The public pulse is daily quickening toward a New St. Louis. The task is in no sense easy, yet regardless of the sacrifices and worries, there is much comfort in feeling that we are aiding in progression. Every good work, no matter how insignificant, or how difficult, has its compensations. Time and united action are factors in ultimate consummation of achievements or ends sought. What we all should be working for is New St. Louis.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

"The Democratic city convention has selected candidates who stand firmly for the progress that has been accomplished by my assistants in the City Hall, and for the great work done by Circuit Attorney Folk.

"Whether this platform is a good one, I leave to the people to decide.

"I am of the opinion that citizens will do a serious wrong if they fail to re-elect officials like License Collector Clifford and Coroner Funkhouser.

"As to the Democratic and Republican candidates for sheriff, no citizen with the best interests of the city at heart would hesitate to choose the former.

"It is imperative that the Democratic nominees for the Circuit Court should be elected. The three chandidate have clean records, no affiliations, personal or otherwise. If elected, they will be free to do exactly what they by law are expected to do. We cannot afford to run the risk of making Mr. Folk's work more arduous.

"The Democratic selections for prosecuting attorney and assistant prosecuting attorney, Mr. Charles P. Williams and Mr. John D. Dalton, are ideal.

"The Democratic candidate for judge of the Court of Criminal Correction will certainly prove a better man from a municipal and judicial standpoint than his contestant.

"In fact, I have no hesitancy in stating publicly that the entire local Democratic ticket, with the exception of a few candidates for justice and constable, is so much better than any other ticket as to leave no opportunity for comparison.

It is generally understood that Mayor Wells' exceptions to Democratic candidates referred to such men as Jim Cronin and Bobby Carroll, who are running for the office of justice of the peace in the Fourth district; "Nick" Griffin, who is making a similar race with James J. Spaulding in the Fifth district.

Carroll is a Butlerite. Politics is his bread and butter. Cronin needs no introduction. Griffin is assistant clerk of the House of Delegates and conducts a saloon at Seventeenth and Franklin avenue.

Among the candidates for constable Mayor Wells evidently had in mind John McGillicuddy (Cuddy Mack), Michael ("Snake") Kinney and Edward J. Morrissey.

"New St. Louis is rapidly becoming a reality," said the mayor. "Old practices are being wiped out and new methods of good government are being instituted instead.

"The good work must not stop now. We must continue our labors, with harmony and without partisan feeling in office, to do better things. We must make St. Louis not only a New St. Louis, but a better St. Louis."

NO TEXTILES BUILDING AT FAIR

Department Will Be Installed in Manufactures Building—Educational Exhibit in Liberal Arts.

It has been decided to have no Textiles building at the St. Louis World's Fair, and that department will be installed in the building devoted to the Department of Manufactures, where, it is said, it properly belongs. This will eliminate one entire structure from the general building plans of the exposition.

As a consequence of a desire to economize on the expenditure of not less than $350,000 for the proposed Education building, and a lack of space in the architectural outline for this structure, it has been decided to place the educational exhibit in the building heretofore known as the Liberal Arts building. The latter will hereafter be called the Palace of Education.

In the general reassignment the liberal arts are removed to the Palace of Textiles, and the latter will have to go to the Building for Manufactures.

It is claimed that this will not interfere with the general scheme in any way. The only problem now confronting the division of works is the Forestry, Fish and Game building, which was to be a sister of the Education building.

JUDGE ZACHRITZ'S BOODLE CHARGE

The Post-Dispatch republished in full for the information of the public the charge of Judge Zachritz to the grand jury, April 25, 1898, concerning the Central Traction deal. The publicity of the record in the case was rendered necessary by the efforts of Judge Zachritz and his friends to make it appear that he originated the boodle investigation by this charge.

The charge was brought out by the Post-Dispatch's exposure of the Central Traction boodle deal and this paper's demand for an investigation of the facts. In the light of recent disclosures and events it makes interesting reading, and causes even more astonishment than it did at the time of its delivery.

It will be noted that the charge chiefly consists of a disquisition on the subject of criminal libel and the menace to public officials of newspaper accusations. That part of it which is not filled with denunciation of what Judge Zachritz was pleased to call the "licentious" press was taken up with a warning to the grand jury to be exceedingly careful not to indict accused officials unless their guilt was proven beyond a doubt, and an instruction to indict the editors of the newspaper making the accusation if no indictment was found against the accused.

"I caution and instruct you," said Judge Zachritz, "as I would a petit jury trying a case as the law contemplates." "The proof," he continued, "must be by competent testimony, and of a kind sufficient to satisfy your minds to the extent the law requires, viz.: beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of an individual before you ought to charge him with such a serious crime."

The judge practically held the newspaper responsible for the evidence to indict and told the grand jury, "You will demand of the paper making the charge the evidence which they say they have or information which will furnish you with the evidence upon which they claim they make their charge." He then instructed the grand jury if the evidence submitted was not sufficient that it was their duty to indict the newspaper editors for criminal libel.

Under the instructions given by Judge Zachritz it is more dangerous to expose municipal rascals than to plunder the city. The two emotions which seemed uppermost in his mind were horror of newspaper accusations directed against public officials and fear that the grand jury would give undue weight to evidence of official corruption.

If this charge represents a vigorous effort to uncover corruption and punish boodlers Heaven deliver the city from such efforts!

A Kentucky candidate for re-election to Congress is frantically endeavoring to prove that he did not fall asleep in his seat one day while the House was in session. For all that Congress has accomplished in the past five years the whole House might as well have taken frequent naps.

WE LOVE KINGS.

We are about to be honored. For the first time in our history of more than 126 years a real King is about to visit us. This is the King of Siam. True, we fought against kings from 1776 to 1783 and from 1812 to 1815, but that cuts no ice-cream with us now. We dearly love kings and all things pertaining to matters royal. Oh, yes, we fairly dote on kings.

We try to marry our daughters as near the throne as possible. The more counts, viscounts, earls and dukes we get on our list the better. The more "Sirs," "Your Graces" and "Your Ladies" we have in our family the better satisfied we are. We love a sounding title. We have many of them in our family. We have the only land of the free and the home of the brave, but that is a matter of which we think but little, excepting around election time. It is a good thing to "holler" about, but what do we care for it as a regular thing? We are so used to it that we regard it lightly.

But now we are going to entertain a real king. It makes us feel good. True, he has a dark skin, and he never had the advantage of a high school education, but he is a king, just the same, and we are going to receive him royally. That is a way we have. We treat every visitor like a king. Chulalongkorn will have a great time. If he were a white king we could not treat him better than we will. We are a free people, but we certainly do love kings.

Admiral Dewey is now President of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association, and something may be done toward restoring the Declaration of Independence.

VOTE FOR THE AMENDMENTS,

The importance of the constitutional amendments authorizing an increase of debt and a county levy is abundantly proved in Comptroller Player's report submitted last August.

The following is a statement of sums required for public buildings:

Completion of new City Hospital	$ 225,000
Completion of new City Hall	250,000
Hospital for chronic and convalescent cases	500,000
Female Hospital	200,000
Additions to Insane Asylum	300,000
Ten fire engine houses and equipment	500,000
	$2,075,000

Other public buildings needed in the near future will cost at least $2,800,000, and projected sewer work calls for $1,670,000.

The passage of the amendment authorizing the exclusion of the old county debt and the water works debt from the computation of the municipal debt will enable the city to borrow enough to meet all these expenses. And the amendment authorizing a county levy of 35 cents on the $100 valuation will enable the city to keep out of any more difficulties. Had it not been for an oversight this levy would have been provided for in the charter in 1877 and county expenses would not have been a charge upon revenues which belonged to the municipality for strictly municipal expenses.

These amendments and the one authorizing a new charter are of vital importance and should receive a unanimous vote. It is inconceivable how any citizen having the welfare of his city at heart can vote against them.

Judge Zachritz's charge to the grandjury in the Central Traction boodle case reads like a hint to smash the men that caught the thieves.

SAFETY ON THE RAILROADS.

It appears from the accident bulletin of the Interstate Commerce Commission that, for the year ending June 30 last, the total number of deaths is less than for the year 1893. The figures are as follows:

In 1898 [illegible] passengers were killed and 3,229 were injured, as compared with 303 killed and 6,089 injured in 1902; in 1893 2,727 employes were killed and 31,729 injured, as compared with 2,516 killed and 33,711 injured in 1902. Total passengers and employes killed in 1902 was 2,819 and 39,800 injured; in 1893 the total were 3,098 killed and 34,955 injured.

This is gratifying, in view of the large increase in number of passengers and railway employes. But it is not satisfactory. In comparison with the record of the English railways, the total number killed and wounded is still far too high. The London railways, carrying many millions of persons annually, were able to report that not one passenger had been killed in the year. At a recent meeting of railway men in England, attention was called to the proportionately larger number of accidents and fatalities in the United States, and it was charged that there was less regard for human life in this country than in Europe. As long as we permit level crossings, unfenced tracks, wooden bridges, dangerous curves and grades, and other cheap substitutes for first-class equipment, this charge will be in large part true.

The state legislatures should compel the railways to look to the public safety and the safety of their employes. The use of automatic couplers has reduced the number of deaths 68 per cent and the number of injuries 81 per cent since the law went in effect in 1900. This shows what can be accomplished by effective legislation towards making the railroads safer.

Senator Hoar sees in trusts the destruction of competition, the management of industries by absentee capital, fraudulent capitalization, secrecy, management for the private benefit of the officers, the power to corrupt elections and the courts, and the difference to public sentiment. Certainly there is nothing the matter with the venerable Massachusetts statesman's eyesight.

GOOD CITY CANDIDATES.

The Post-Dispatch has shown that the hand of the old Ziegenhein machine was powerful in the selection of Republican candidates for the city offices, especially candidates for the bench and the offices concerned with the administration of justice. It designated as the special candidates of the old Ziegenhein-Butler combine Judge Zachritz, Fred H. Smith, Judge Sidener and Herman A. Clover.

In the nomination of the Democratic candidates for the minor offices, justices of the peace and constables, the Ziegenhein-Butler forces scored a number of victories. The combination nominated "Jim" Butler for Congress in the Twelfth district and will support him.

On the general city ticket the Butler influence was successful at one point—the nomination of Hiram N. Moore for judge of the court of criminal correction. Mr. Moore is untried, having no official record, but it is well understood that his selection was acceptable to the Butler forces.

But Moore's nomination is flanked by that of Charles P. Williams for prosecuting attorney, against whose character, capacity and standing in the legal profession not a word of objection has been urged. His election would give promise of redemption for the three C's court.

The Democratic candidates for the circuit bench, Messrs. Taylor, McDonald and Foster, are without reproach as to record, character and capacity. There would be good reason to expect, in the event of their election, the maintenance of the standard of judiciary in this city and the continuance of the work of municipal purification.

Two Democratic nominees, P. J. Clifford for license commissioner and Robert M. Funkhouser for coroner, have excellent official records to commend them to the independent voters of the city.

The Post-Dispatch emphasizes the importance of the election of sound men, free from all unworthy associations or influences as judges and law officers. Good men in these offices are essential to progress in the present crisis. Bad men would nullify that has been done.

The forces of evil will concentrate on the worst candidates. The forces of good should concentrate upon the best.

The tariff is said to be giving the President most concern in the preparation of his message. Perhaps he is thinking of Gov. Cummins said in explaining the Iowa idea. "Protection," said Gov. The German government may appropriate $125,000 yearly for German schools abroad, and Italy may appropriate $200,000. The stupidity of giving many American towns the same name is continually shown in the mistakes that result from it. The sending of a corpse to Chillicothe, Mo., instead of to Chillicothe, O., is an illustration.

A FRIEND.—"The difference between the Roman Catholic belief and the Greek Orthodox?" Frankly the answerer doesn't know, but he remembers hearing something about the procession of the third person, which he could never understand. There are several hundred volumes on the subject where it is luminously explained. Go to Public Library and read a few. The Greek Orthodox is Christian like the Catholic and Protestant. The Jewish is not. Therein is the difference. These questions are too elaborate for this place. The answerer just now observes you don't live in St. Louis. See if you can't find an Encyclopedia Britannica in your town. You will find very clear and concise articles on these topics, or in Gibbon's Decline and Fall you will find chapters which will give you a good understanding of the origin of the schism between the Eastern and Western churches.

An Important Discovery.

From the Sioux City Tribune.

The ministers of Hastings, Neb., who raided a gambling joint and found the "sport" in full blast announce that after careful investigation they are of the opinion that the outside player stood no chances against the devices used. This is a discovery whose importance will be confined to the ministerial circles entertaining it, but it will do some good in that location.

STORIES ABOUT PERSONS.

The best part of his work was done in Rochester, N. Y.

There has just died in a suburb of Melbourne an old Irishman of 90. His name was John Burke and away back in the '30s, when Australia was only a penal settlement ruled by military officers and long before the discovery of gold revolutionized the great southern continent, he carried the mails between Melbourne and Sydney. There were no roads or railways then. It was wild bush for most of the 500 miles, and Burke had to rely on horses to carry out his contract. Once, having lost his horse, he rode 100 miles on the back of a cow.

M. de Blowitz, who has made up his mind to retire after having represented the London Times at Paris for 30 years, gives as his reason that he is half blind, and when his niece, who acts as his secretary, is not by his side he can neither read, write nor dictate. "A blind man may do very well as an organist or a pianist, but not as a correspondent for a newspaper," he adds. M. de Blowitz will remain at his post until the end of the year, however. He has been the Paris correspondent of the London Times since July 13, 1871, and shows no symptoms of intellectual fatigue.

A MIRACULOUS ICON.

The church of Alti-Mermer, a suburb of Constantinople, has till lately been very poorly attended, so much so that it was with the greatest difficulty that it covered its own expenses. But all this has suddenly been changed by the discovery of an Icon in the church with supernatural powers of healing, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The discovery happened in this way: A barber's daughter, suffering from epilepsy, went, a few months ago, on a pilgrimage to the miracle-working Icon of Peramo. While there she dreamed two or three times running that the Virgin appeared to her and told her to go back to her native village, Alti-Mermer, and to have a special service in the church there.

The girl told her mother about these dreams, but the mother only laughed at her, and it was only a fortnight ago that the girl induced her mother to take her to the church to have a special service. Accordingly they went, and as soon as the priest gave the girl one of the Icons to kiss the sacred image struck her again and again on the forehead.

The service was repeated with the same results on two more occasions, and now the girl is completely cured. Another woman has also been cured in the same way of epilepsy, and it is reported that new miracles take place every day. Not only Greeks, but Catholics, Armenians and even Jews are to be found among the crowds which go to worship the Icon every day. The sale of tapers alone exceeds £10 a day.

LAWS OF PERSIA 1000 B. C.

The French explorer, De Morgan, who has been excavating in Suciaha, in Persia, has found not one buried city, but a half dozen of them one on top of the other, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. The conquerors, as they succeeded each other there, had the amiable habit of destroying everything on the ruins. So it happens that, as the De Morgan expedition excavated, it unearthed one city below the other. Gradually the entire lost history of Persia was laid bare. The Dominican Father Sheil, who accompanies this party as lector, now has an occupation that will make the mouths of archeologists and historians all over the world water. He discovered a stone column that is covered with cuneiform writings. He has deciphered enough already to know that these writings represent laws and statutes that were promulgated in Persia one thousand years before Christ was born.

THE CODE OF MANU.

BAD IN SPELLING.

From the Denver Times.

In educational theories it is never safe to forget the essentials. People who recognize the importance of the "four rs" will be surprised to learn that out of a class of 141 freshmen at Northwestern University only 56 passed a test examination in spelling. A majority of these students—now ready, presumably, to grapple with science, the classics and higher mathematics—slipped up on words in regular everyday use. Prof. Clark of Northwestern University ascribes this state of affairs to the present methods of teaching spelling in the public schools. A revival of the New England "spelling bee" might serve as a counter-irritant.

THE TONGUE.

"The boneless tongue, so small anw weak,
Can crush and kill," declared the Greek.

"The tongue destroys a greater horde,"
The Turk asserts, "than does the sword."

The Persian proverb wisely saith,
"A lengthy tongue—an early death."

Or sometimes takes this form instead:
"Don't let the tongue cut off your head."

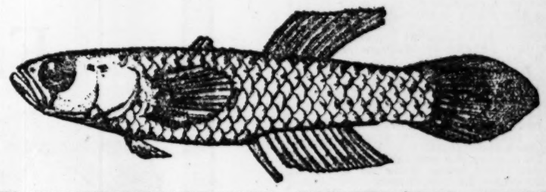

"The tongue can speak a word whose speed,"
Says the Chinese, "outstrips the steed."

While Arab sage doth this impart:
"The tongue's great storehouse is the heart."

From Hebrew wit the maxim sprung,
"Though feet should slip, ne'er let the tongue."

The sacred writer crowns the whole,
"Who keeps his tongue doth keep his soul."

SMALLEST FISH IN THE WORLD.

THE SMALLEST FISH IN THE WORLD (MAGNIFIED 'EIGHT AND ONE-HALF TIMES), ONLY HALF AN INCH IN LENGTH—FOUND IN A LAKE ON THE ISLAND OF LUZON.

The native of Luzon call it the sinarapan, and their mode of catching it is with a net of exceeding fine mesh—hardly more than a coarse cloth, which is used as a seine. In this manner great quantities of the tiny fishes are captured, and, being dried in a mass in the sun, without any other cooking, are seasoned with pepper and other spices and pressed into flat round cakes.

Young Lady and Old Man.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am sorry that my warning to "Beware of all dogs" is considered by a "young lady lover of dogs" as "talking through my hat." Perhaps when she is older she will be wiser and more polite. I wrote from my own experience. "Many a human life has been saved by the faithful dog." True. And many a human life has been lost through dogs. I renew my warning, "Beware of all dogs." It is not a sin to be cautious. OLD MAN.

St. Louis.

Dog-Kissing Women.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This is, indeed an era of morality just dawning upon us. Boodlers are being prosecuted, a fair election is promised by our police, detectives, election commissioner and by the Mayor, and, more than all that, a man possessed of a wife who puts him to bed with a dog may gain his freedom and again be a man among men by applying to the courts for a severance of the tie that does not make man and dog one flesh.

Oh, you noodles that put up with poodles, consider the doggie woggie; how he uses his "sweet mouth and tongue!" When he sneaks through the alley gate, with what a relish he rummages about the putrefying offal that the garbage collector failed to collect! What a joy over the discovery of the shriveled carcass of a rat.

Nor is it uncommon that the dog becomes the carrier of disease germs when given the privileges so many useless ones enjoy.

Admire a smart, well-trained setter? Of course, I do; but in the kennel or in the hunting grounds. Not in bed. How disgusting is the dog-kissing woman that carries about a dog and hires a servant to care for the babies! Yours, in disgust.

P. G. ZAPP.

A Dangerous Sidewalk.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I would call the attention of the city to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk at the corner of Morgan and Jefferson avenue. The sidewalk is not over 12 inches wide and persons who pass there have to go out on the street. Only this morning I noticed a lady and two children passing there and a team almost run over them. Something ought to be done. Ask the police on the beat. They will tell you about the dangerous condition. Not a day passes but people are in danger, as to wait for a car you have to stand in the street, where teams are constantly passing.

St. Louis. CITIZEN.

The Sailor Not So "Easy."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Whenever a sailor reaches port the people think he has plenty of money and charge him accordingly. Sailors are greeted everywhere with the song, "Strike Up the Band, Here Comes a Sailor." An apprentice sailor boy wrote an answer to "Strike Up the Band." Will you please publish the inclosed rhymes, I know they will be of interest to some of the mothers who have boys in the navy.

St. Louis. AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Answer to "Strike Up the Band:"
I am not a cinch because I am a sailor,
I am off a man-o'-war and not a whaler;
And when I go ashore the people at me roar,
"Strike Up the Band, Here Comes a Sailor!"

Because I always spend my money freely
That's the reason why they think I'm easy.
But, no matter where I go,
I'll have you all to know,
I'm not a cinch because I'm a sailor.

Trouble in Bread-Making.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I would be glad to have advice from some of your readers as to breadmaking. I am having trouble with my bread, although I have made plenty of good bread. The last two or three bakings have been failures, and as my husband won't eat baker's bread, I am greatly worried. I use the best yeast and don't think I have made any mistakes in method. Yet the sponge fails to rise. What can be the trouble? If any reader has a sure-enough recipe for breadmaking, I would be glad if she would send it in and let it appear in this column.

Accommodations for World's Fair.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The claim of Manager Dupont that he can take care of the World's Fair crowd with the present street car facilities will give rise to a broad smile, even among the most indifferent observer. The writer attended the World's Fair at Chicago during the week which embraced "Illinois Day," and on that big day the attendance exceeded, as the records will show, 700,000. However, admitting that our big days did not go beyond half that, or 350,000 visitors, how do you suppose they could handle such a crowd of people, especially in view of the terribly overcrowded condition of these cars every morning and evening now, when no visitors or strangers are around?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Forty years ago some men from the north went to Arkansas and were offered grape shot and six feet of earth. That was at Pea Ridge in northwest Arkansas. Now it is different. Instead of grape shot and six feet of earth the man from the north is offered grapes and a free home.

It is a fact that there is plenty of land, either government or cheap land, in Arkansas, where a man can get a home and make money raising grapes. It takes only two years to have a vineyard of wine-producing grapes, and there is no business more pleasant or profitable. The writer knows of one body of government land, ready for the homesteader, large enough to give a good vineyard to 100 families. The total cost of getting land, including land office fees for filing, will not exceed $40 and railroad fare. It is in a region where the water is good, fuel plentiful and climate as good as anyone wants.

It seems to me people are foolish to toil and worry along in the city or hoping against hope on a rented farm.

I could tell a hundred men when and how to get a home. Have told you in this very briefly the situation. I am not in the real estate business, but am in your city for a short stay on business.

The "Chewer."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

There are many good men to be found in their ranks,
I wish in my heart there were fewer,
For they make a man swear who is given to thanks—
I refer to the beast called the chewer.
He spits on the sidewalk, the steps and the floor,
In the parlor, the church or saloon.
He spits through the grating, the window, the door,
At a signboard, a bug, or the moon.
His life may be gentle, his linen quite clean,
His judgment in most things be good;
But the taint of the devil is plain to be seen—
He wouldn't spit straight if he could.
For in spitting all feeling and judgment seem lost,
Every sense of what's proper and fit
Is gone, and he squirts, without counting the cost,
Be alert or you'll surely be hit.
He may give up his seat in a crowded street car
That a woman or old man may sit,
He may forego his drink, do without his cigar,
But in heaven above he would spit.
No doubt there are vices more venal than this
That we pardon each day in the door;
But the man of all men we should best to miss,
Is the man that we know or the "Chewer."

THIS MIDGET JOCKEY EARNS MORE THAN MANY BANK PRESIDENTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The standing of the jockeys here now shows that little Arthur Redfern heads the list. Without counting his Chicago experience, he has been first 88 times, second 95 times and third 68 times. More than 60 per cent of his mounts have been in the money. By winning one mount each day during the Aqueduct meeting he will pass the century mark in firsts.

Up to Saturday Redfern's mounts had brought him a little more than $17,000. Add to this his salary from the Pepper stable and it will be seen that the amount earned by the midget rider is greater than the salaries of many bank presidents.

Redfern is careful of his money, which is being invested for him in a way to put him in possession of a comfortable fortune for life. When the inevitable day of retirement comes, Redfern will be better provided against the future than most of his brilliant predecessors or contemporaries.

George Odom stands next to Redfern in winning mounts.

COACH WHITE SHOWS WASHINGTON HOW IT SHOULD PLAY FOOTBALL

Jumped Into a Scrimmage Game and Gives a Lively Exhibition—A Lot of Such Exhibitions Are Needed by the Local College Boys if They Expect to do Anything.

"How you ought to play football," was the mute lesson taught the Washington University football team yesterday at League Park by Coach White, when he stepped in at tackle for the Washington University Juniors in scrimmage practice.

White has lost part of his larnyx and most of his vocal paraphernalia trying to relate the possibilities of line play to the various candidates for the forward positions. Yesterday he became disgusted and stepped into the opposing line himself. Whenever a play came anywhere near his side of the line, White was on hand before it started and was at the bottom of the heap with his arms around the man with the ball.

White was trying to illustrate the possibilities of the game for the benefit of the linemen, who have so much more to learn than can be found in an octave volume.

The chief faults of the Washington men, from tackle to tackle, are want of speed and failure to watch the aggressive play of the enemy and get into it.

Any snappy team could get the charge on the Washington line. The object in life of the local eleven's line seems to be in trying to stand still in its tracks and keep the enemy from shoving it back. The men apparently charge with their eyes shut, and think that after a play has passed from them a foot, they are not to be expected to do anything toward helping stop it. Only one or two dream of backing up the other side of the line after they find the play has gone there.

White gave an excellent exhibition of the game for a few minutes and showed that it is possible for a tackle on the left of the line to occasionally get into a play on the right.

Failure to do this by the Washingtons in Saturday's game was responsible for many of the Sewanee gains.

The usual patchwork aggregation was out yesterday, with the ad[illegible] Tre latter did some fair work, considering it was his first out. He went into the charge low and hard, but has the tendency toward going in blind and of not watching the ball. He should be a valuable man with a few weeks' work.

Thursday, and possibly this afternoon, Marion-Sims will practice against the Washington aggregation. White is anxious to have scrimmage work for Saturday's contest at Vanderbilt.

The team will leave for Nashville Friday morning and approximately the old team will be in the field. The team is sadly wanting in defensive work, and will doubtless have a tale of woo to tell on its return. If the eleven cannot beat Vanderbilt, it will go hard with it when the lineup against Missouri comes.

That game is but a little over three weeks away. At present prospects are anything but bright for the local men, and the team appears to be in worse form than it was two weeks ago.

Missouri's good game against Nebraska may be taken with a grain of salt. Nebraska had several of its second team in the lineup, and was somewhat bunged up on account of its hard contest of the preceding Saturday against Minnesota.

Nevertheless the Columbia showing was a distinct improvement, and there is little doubt that it is in better shape than the local aggregation. Washington has always played hard against Missouri, and followers of the team's fortunes are hoping it will do so this year.

C. B. C.'s hard game of the year will be played Saturday against the Kirksville Osteopaths. The bone doctors are reported as having a strong, fast team. Last year they won from C. B. C. team after a hard battle. Their eleven is practically that of last year, while C. B. C. is lighter by many pounds. Coach Todd hardly expects a victory, but thinks his men will make a good showing.

C. B. C. and Washington may practice together, later on. Both teams need defensive work and Coach Todd is willing to alternate with Washington, practicing one afternoon at the college campus and the next at League Park.

C. B. C. is expecting a game with the Tigers later in the season. The Missouri men are reported to have an open date through the failure of one of the games of their schedule. Coach Todd is negotiating for it.

Marion-Sims is regretting its visit to Rolla on more than one count. First, it is for the present minus the services of its star halfback, Bailey, who severely injured his arm in the game. For more than 10 minutes following the injury, Bailey stayed in the contest without uttering a sound, and did his work at smashing the interference with the rest.

He doubtless would have remained through to the close of the half had not the Rolla official noticed his condition and ordered him from the field. Bailey refused to go and almost wept when he was led from the field.

Capt. Lecron complains of bad treatment by the officials and the crowd at Rolla, and says that the defeat was, in a measure, due to the partisan work of both referee and umpire.

The Medics' giant coach, Caldwell, attempted to gain satisfaction, and at once went on the field to see about it. A little deputy sheriff came up, intending to order him off, but changed his mind when he compared sizes with the big former Cornell man.

Almost every local eleven that plays at Rolla returns with complaints of the treatment received there.

Early in the season there was much speculation on the subject of Michigan's ability to duplicate the scoring record of 1901, and the general opinion was that the team would not be equal to the task. On its record to date, however, the eleven seems likely to give football followers a bit of a surprise. It would be nothing to marvel at now, in fact, if the team should not only equal the score of 501 points made in the ten regular games of last year, but should pass the totals made in the 11 games that inclusion of the California exhibition sums. There were 49 points scored in that game, making Michigan's total 550. Michigan is rolling up a high average again, leading the country in scoring, the figures up to and including Saturday's games, for eastern and western teams, being found below. Points made and points scored against are both shown, and the last column gives the average number of points scored per game. The figures:

Scepter's Purchase Confirmed.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Sir George Tatton made the announcement here yesterday that the report that he had bought the famous filly, Scepter, from R. S. Sievier for $120,000 was correct. Sceptre will be sold in the sale ring at New Market today.

CROAKS CHATS WITH THE GOOD DRESSER

Good Sense, Good Taste, Good Dress.

The Croak Shoulder, the Croak Collar, the Croak Lappel, the Croak Trace-the-form Back, the Croak Straight Front Coat, the Croak Straight Trousers these are only a few of the many details that go to make the stylish four-buttoned single-breasted sack suit. This will be the stylish business suit—feels good on the wearer and is well-appearing.

Then there is nothing like being an up-to-date Good Dresser, not a freak Dresser, but a Good Dresser. You unconsciously read a man's personality in his clothes, others read yours; let them read, "Good Sense," "Good Taste," in other words, be a Good Dresser.

CARR'S MACHINE WORKED FINELY

Eleven Horses Got Away Together After a Jockey's Mishap Had Been Corrected.

"Carr's starting machine will be the downfall of the racing game if it is generally adopted," said a gentleman prominent in local turf circles yesterday afternoon, after the race in which the new starting gate was tried out.

The critic is a horse owner who has been racing his animals at the local tracks for several years and who at one time was prominently identified with the Kinloch Jockey Club.

"The most attractive part of racing, in fact, an essential feature of the game, is its uncertainty.

"Without it, bookmaking, which may be said to be the life of the sport, will die out and with it the game. Carr's machine reduces the element of chance in the start to a minimum. In this sense it is a complete success. I think that without doubt very few bad starts, if any at all, will result after the machine has been given a thorough trial and horses are schooled to it.

"This being the case, and the many chances of getting off eliminated, a horse that would ordinarily be at even money in the betting will become a practical cinch and no bets can be taken on him.

"Horses may then be expected to run almost exactly to form, and if that is the case, there will be little cause for betting. The bookmakers are in the game for money and will not take bets against cinches."

The general opinion of the trial made yesterday of Carr's machine was favorable, from the standpoint of its ability to get the horses off together. The officials of the track, horse owners and jockeys alike, are unanimous in praising the work of the new scheme. Eleven horses were in the event in which the machine was given its first public trial. But two of them had ever faced the machine before and were absolutely unschooled to it. Notwithstanding but two horses were even nervous during the long wait before the barriers were released. At the outset Jockey Fauntleroy spent most of his time watching the operations of the manipulators. His horse, Chandoo, suddenly took a notion to rear, and through the inattention of his rider the latter was thrown over the horse's head to the ground.

Fauntleroy was stunned and a long delay ensued, during which Peter Duryea became restive. But for the accident the start would have taken place within three or four minutes after the time of arriving at the barrier.

When Phillips was finally mounted on Chandoo in place of Fauntleroy the start was made promptly and accurately. The slow starters were at a disadvantage, but the possibilities of the machine were fully demonstrated.

The most important drawback of the machine in the opinion of the observers of the race was the weakness of the barriers in front of the stalls and the danger of a rearing horse getting his feet over the partitions.

PUGILISTIC GOSSIP.

The West End Club is not out of existence. It is merely busy with the coming election. As soon as that trying ordeal is passed, it will turn its attention to the Benny Yanger-Moran contest, which will be held at the club's coliseum one week from Thursday.

The St. Louis Rowing Club "stags" appear to have gone into retirement. It may be significant that the decline came after the attempt by the officials of the organization to put on Tim Hurley.

Kid Broad will reappear in the ring again Friday night at Chicago. Buddy Ryan will oppose him. This is Broad's first important fight since he fought 10 rounds with Young Corbett at Denver.

In the light of recent events, it is hard to figure how Young Corbett put out Terry McGovern in a couple of rounds last year. Corbett has failed to put out several fighters in longer intervals. If two rounds were sufficient for him to dispose of a champion, "Young Erne," a novice, should have been whipped before he entered the ring.

A Chicago writer alludes to Joe Walcott as a "quitter." The welterweight champion, it would appear, had received enough hard knocks in his day to be absolved of that sin.

James Jay Corbett doesn't want a match with George Gardner. Corbett's monologue stunt must be a paying investment. It may be, however, that Corbett figures it just as easy for Gardner to beat him as for James J. Jeffries, and that the latter would offer the greater returns for the pangs he will suffer.

Corbett's only chance with any fighter possessing a punch is to stay away and jab to the limit of the bout. Gardner must be faster than bug Jeffries and would therefore stand a good chance of getting to Corbett. James is a wise artist.

M'GOVERN'S OPINION.

What one fighter thinks of his fellows is always a matter of interest. Here is what Terry McGovern has to say of some of the lights of the squared circle:

"To begin with," said McGovern, "I think that Fitzsimmons is one of the greatest fighters in the world. He is my ideal of a fighter. He is an old man, but at that I don't think there is a man in the world who has a chance with him in a six-round bout. That, I think, is his limit.

"I believe he could come pretty near beating Jeffries if he went in to do the trick in six rounds. That would be his only chance with the big fellow.

"As for Jeffries, to be candid, it appears to me that he is in a class by himself. His strength and weight are too much for any of the present heavies.

"Sharkey came very near being a great fighter. As for gameness and willingness, Sharkey has no superior, but unfortunately he lacks two of the most essential qualifications of the boxer—coolness and science. Since his defeat at the hands of Jeffries Sharkey has gone down the line. He has been beaten by Fitzsimmons, and Ruhlin has taken his measure twice.

"It is too bad that McCoy didn't possess more weight. He had the punch, and as a ring general it is doubtful if he has an equal.

"Cool and calculating from the time he enters the ring to the end of the battle, McCoy is apt to carry off the honors. He came very near taking Sharkey's measure when the latter was at his best. One noticeable thing about McCoy's style is that he can use both hands most effectively, and as a hard punisher he can be closely compared with Fitzsimmons.

"Jim Corbett is the superior of them all when it comes to science, but the former champion has not the hitting power behind his lightning-like delivery. Give Corbett Fitzsimmons' punch and he would be the world's champion heavy-weight today.

"Tommy Ryan is a great man at his weight, and is a fine example of the model pugilist. Although in the boxing game 16 years, Ryan is today as good as can be found in the middle-weight class. He is a finished boxer in every sense of the word, and not a bad matchmaker by any means. He has taken good care of himself during his ring career, and when he put Carter out recently he surprised even the most conservative."

COURSING EVENTS ON DELMAR TRACK

Crack Greyhounds Will Contest for Prizes Beginning on November 8.

Delmar race track is now given over to the dogs. For several days members of the greyhound species of canine have been arriving, in anticipation of the opening of the coursing season here November 8 and 9, when the big Waterloo stake will be run off.

At present few of the real stars are quartered at Delmar, but many arrivals are expected by Saturday. Among the notable animals that will run in the stake and whose arrival is anticipated shortly, is Sacramento Boy, twice winner of the John Grace cup at San Francisco, an event worth a total of $7000.

Nearly every local dog of class has been entered. The number of nominations has already exceeded the limit of the entry list, 64, and owners with more than two dogs entered will be asked to drop one or more of their nominations, in order to make room for other owners not represented.

Following the Waterloo stake, another big event is scheduled for St. Louis—the American derby, for puppies whelped last year. This race will be run off November 15 and 16.

Following the two big stakes, meetings will be held each Sunday at Delmar track.

CENTRAL LEAGUE.

CRESCENTS, 5; JUNIORS, 0.

The Crescents administered a coat of whitewash to the Juniors last night on the Royal alleys, and as a result of poor form they dropped five games in a row.

This victory ties the Crescents, Acmes and Juniors for the first place in the Central League. The winners were in form last night and showed it by their front columns of 35 and 47 and a total of 1319 pins. Rickert did the best work in this line with 12—6, and Held 7—6. Scholl did the best work on totals with 281, and Oberbeck was next in line. Thomas was well up in front for the Juniors and deserved the honor position for the Juniors, as he finished with a record of 8—7—55.

SENT FREE TO MEN

A Most Remarkable Remedy That Quickly Restores Lost Vigor to Men.

A Free Trial Package Sent by Mail to All Who Write.

Free trial packages of a most remarkable remedy are being mailed to all who will write the State Medical Institute. They cured so many men who had battled for years against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood, that the Institute has decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write. It is a home treatment and all men who suffer with any form of sexual weakness, resulting from youthful folly, premature loss of strength and memory, weak back, varicocele, or emaciation of parts can now cure themselves at home.

The remedy has a peculiar grateful effect of warmth and seems to act direct to the desired location, giving strength and development just where it is needed. It cures all the ills and troubles that come from years of misuse of the natural functions and has been an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute, 1813 Elektron Building, Ft. Wayne, Ind., stating that you desire one of their free trial packages will be complied with promptly. The Institute is desirous of reaching that great class of men who are unable to leave home to be treated and the free sample will enable them to see how easy it is to be cured of sexual weakness when the proper remedies are employed. The Institute makes no restrictions. Any man who writes will be sent a free sample, carefully sealed in a plain package so that its recipient need have no fear of embarrassment or publicity. Readers are requested to write without delay.

ELMA RUMSEY WINS FROM HER SISTER

BEAT HER AT GOLF FOR THE ROBYN TROPHY.

THE CONTEST WAS CLOSE

Seesawed from Start to Finish and Was Finally Settled on the 20th Hole by a Clever Stroke.

After a closely-fought match on the links of the Glen Echo Golf Club, Normandy, Miss Elma Rumsey yesterday defeated her sister, Miss Queen Rumsey, last year's woman champion of St. Louis, for the Robyn trophy.

The contest was stubbornly fought and 20 holes were necessary to determine which of the sisters was entitled to the cup. The high wind prevailing prevented anything but ordinary golf. Both contestants finished with fair scores, however. A large gallery, assembled to witness the contest, predicted that Miss Queen Rumsey, last season's champion, would win this year. The play was so close, however, that at the end of the eighteenth hole the score was a tie. The nineteenth was halfed.

The twentieth hole went to Miss Elma by one stroke. Throughout the two rounds of the course the contestants see-sawed, and at no time did either have an appreciable advantage.

The match, while it practically decides the local championship, was not officially a championship battle. The regular woman's championships will be played at the Country Club next month. Miss Queen Rumsey will have another opportunity to hold her title, won last season.

Ballantrae Captured Cambridgeshire Stakes at Newmarket.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—William C. Whitney's Ballentrae won the Cambridgeshire stakes at the Houghton meeting at Newmarket today.

St. Mac Leou was second and Nabot third. Twenty-four horses ran. The Cambridgeshire stakes is a handicap of 25 sovereigns each, with 500 sovereigns added, for 3-year-olds and upward; one mile and a furlong.

McKellops Beat Smith.

The fifth game of the three-cushioned billiard tournament was played between McKellops and C. D. Smith at the Royal billiard hall last night. The former won by a score of 35 to 28. The game tonight will be between Edington and Clemens. Kellop and Smith's scores follow:

MOTHER AND SON MURDERED.

Lone Northern Pacific Train Robber Is Suspected of Crime.

BEARMOUTH, Mont., Oct. 29.—A member of a threshing crew on an adjoining ranch had occasion to visit the Conn ranch, and when he entered the farm house he was shocked. On the floor lay James Conn, dead, with a ragged bullet hole through his temple. Near him lay his mother, her head crushed in with a blunt instrument, presumably the butt of a revolver.

At the time of the robbery of the Northern Pacific train, bloodhounds were put upon the trail of the robber, and the dogs followed it for several miles in the direction of the Willow Creek district, but lost the scent.

Those familiar with the country decided at the time of the robbery that, in all probability, the outlaw would attempt to escape that way, as the country is such as to afford an excellent opportunity to evade capture, being heavily timbered. It is thought that the Lone Robber may have slain the woman and her son.

The discovery of the crime was made at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and officers are now at the scene. Near the stable, the threshing men met a demented woman who had lived with the Conn family for some time.

This woman killed her husband about 20 years ago, and it is suggested that, perhaps, she committed the crime. The scene of the tragedy is about 30 miles from Bearmouth, remote from the wires, and details are meager.

REV. PRATTSMAN'S FUNERAL.

Services Over Remains of Missouri's Oldest Preacher at Booneville.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOONVILLE, Mo., Oct. 29.—The funeral of Rev. Dr. William M. Prottsman, who died Monday night at the home of his niece, Miss Anna L. Clark, in this place, was held today at the Southern Methodist church, the burial following in the local cemetery.

Dr. Prottsman was probably the oldest minister in the State, having been born in 1815, and been in the ministry since 1844. He was superannuated by his church several years ago, but continued to preach occasionally. He had served as chaplain to the Missouri Senate and House.

The first Thanksgiving proclamation was written by him, Gov. Stewart having delegated the task to him.

FAST TIME AT MEMPHIS.

Cresceus Fails to Lower Record, but Trots in Great Form.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 29.—Cresceus failed to lower his record of 2:02¼ at Memphis Driving Park yesterday afternoon, but trotted the mile in 2:05¼.

Owing to the strong breeze that was blowing up the back stretch, the announcement was made by the judges before Cresceus made his appearance that it was out of question for the great trotter to break his record, owing to the condition of the weather, but the son of Robert McGregor did his best.

Dan Patch, the pacer, also made an effort to reduce the world's mark of 1:59¼, but his effort proved no better than that of Cresceus, the mile being paced in 2:01½.

Winter Eczema OR TETTER

Is only one of the many varieties of that tormenting skin disease called Eczema. It slumbers through the Summer and breaks out in winter. The head, feet and hands are the parts most often attacked, though it sometimes appears on other parts of the body, the skin thickens and hardens, cracks open and bleeds, while the itching and burning are at times almost unbearable. Scratching only makes it worse, sores and scabs forming where the skin is broken.

In this form of Eczema brownish white crusts sometimes form which scale off in fine particles leaving the skin raw and inflamed. It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders and salves nor anything else applied to the surface can possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the inflammation and pain.

SKIN CRACKS AND BLEEDS

It is the acids thrown off by the blood and which are forcing their way through the pores that cause the skin to harden, crack and bleed, and produce the irritation and soreness. S. S. S. neutralizes these acid poisons and cleanses the blood and system of all irritating substances and humors and does it promptly and effectually.

SSS

S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the thin acid blood, and builds up the entire system; then the unsightly eruption and sores heal, the skin becomes smooth and soft, and all signs of the Eczema disappear.

GOOD CARD FOR TODAY'S RACING

Handicap and the Purse Affair Should Prove Interesting Contests.

BY R. D. WALSH.

This afternoon's racing program at the Fair Grounds is a splendid one. The usual six races are scheduled, but one of them is a handicap and the other a purse affair, both of which should result in exciting contests. The handicap is at six furlongs and is fourth on the card.

It is for 2-year-olds and upward and has 10 fast sprinters engaged. Three of the most prominent of them ran yesterday, Kindred, Lass of Langdon and Maggie Davis, and their performances would not justify one in selecting either of them to win today. Strange things, however, happen in the last few days of the meeting and a reversal may occur.

Croix d'Or would be the legitimate choice in this race if he had a little less weight up. One hundred and seven pounds is more than he has carried in his recent victories, and he is asked to give away a lot of avoirdupois to older horses. With a good vigorous rider he may do it, but if he is ridden with a light boy who will whip him at the wrong time he will lose.

Happy Chappy ran such a sparkling race Monday last that he will be bound to have a large following. He defeated such cracks as Schwalbe, Elastic and Jack de Mund, but he is putting up an additional five pounds today, and, as he is a 2-year-old, I think that weight will anchor him.

Lass of Langdon was played heavily by her party yesterday, but ran last. Her forte is mud, although she is credited with being able to run on any kind of a course. Erema, with her great speed, looks well in this race. With only 99 pounds in the saddle she certainly figures to be in the money.

NOBLEMAN.

Nobleman ran an excellent race yesterday, but he is also a mud lark that cannot be depended upon in fast going. If "Doc" Street had Delagoa fit she would romp home in this race in front of her field. She is a very speedy trick, having covered six furlongs at Saratoga this summer in 1:13 and a fraction.

The fifth race, at a mile, will equal if not surpass in interest the handicap. It is composed of all-age horses. Maggie Felix has the speed of this lot, but her present form cannot be judged by her last race. Her effort on Monday last was not by any means a true index of her ability as a racer.

She has on other occasions shown that she can run with the fastest of them, and should be hard to beat today. Lunar, with only 105 pounds up, should run well, and is almost sure to get a portion of the money.

Handspinner is a high-class 2-year-old whose form is variable, but if he is at his best he will render a good account of himself.

It is something new to see Four Leaf C. entered at a mile. Her previous races have generally been at six and a half or seven furlongs, and it is reasonable to suppose that she does not fancy today's distance because she has not heretofore been asked to go it. She is a fairly good mare, but she can hardly win against this company today.

Two-year-olds will contest in the opening race at five and a half furlongs. In Doubt ran a good race Monday with 110 pounds up. He is in today with only a hundred and should be a sharp contender for first money. Light Opera has the same weight up that he had when he ran third Monday last.

On that occasion he was practically left at the post and finished in third place. With an even break he would almost certainly have won, and if he manages to get off in front today should win. He has, moreover, three pounds less weight on him today. His opponents are certainly not any better, probably not as good, as those he competed with Monday last.

SECOND RACE.

Fourteen selling platers will meet in the second race, and on recent form and on recent performances One More figures to win. He has run second twice in the last week and has carried more weight than he will have up today. If Waldo rides him his chances will be greatly improved thereby.

Eva's Darling has considerable weight up—111 pounds—but she ran second with 118 in the saddle last week. On that race she figures to be in the money sure, and if she has a good rider may win. Sweet Dream has been so unreliable that she does not demand much notice, but if she were fit and ready she could easily annex this event.

THIRD RACE.

The third race, at seven furlongs, is also for 2-year-olds. Ed Layson has not been out for about three weeks and his present form is therefore unknown. Judging from his last race, he does not figure to win here. In any case, his best races are run in the mud and the track will be good and fast today. Hannah Lady ran so disappointingly yesterday that I must pass her up.

Lazarre is greatly favored in the weights and should be hard to beat at this distance. Pathos and Pennant seem to be the best of the others, although Dottie Shute might wake up with startling suddenness.

Can the Consistent Linden Ella win the last race from Erne, Leenja and Leflare? She has more pounds up today than she had Saturday when she won at this distance, but she showed such evidences of speed and gameness that she is the logical winner of this race. Leenja should be her closest attendant at the finish and Erne should be good enough to get show money.

YESTERDAY'S RACING.

The feature of yesterday's racing at the Fair Grounds was the introduction of J. Franklin Carr's new starting device.

Its operation was closely and critically observed by horsemen, and the opinion was unanimous that it was a pronounced success. It was used only in one race—the second—and the start was as near perfect as it could be.

There was a slight delay, caused by the stupidity of Jockey Fauntleroy, but the machine was in no way responsible for that. The greatest objection to the machine is its cumbersomeness, but that is a matter which the maker can easily rectify. It now weighs about 5000 pounds, but this can be cut in half.

Jack Young proved again yesterday that he is a colt of exceptional merit by defeating older horses over a distance of ground. The race in which he participated was one of the prettiest of the whole racing season. Jack Young, Lacy Crawford and Jack De Mund finishing heads apart in a terrific struggle.

Young's victory may fairly be ascribed to the masterly ride given him by Willie Waldo, who completely outrode and outgeneraled Bonner and Louden. Another feature of yesterday's racing was the unexpected winning of Kitty Clyde in the fifth race. Judging from her recent races she did not seem to have a chance, but she upset all calculations and won handily at the good odds of 15 to 1. She was practically unbacked save by the dollars of the pikers.

FINED $500 FOR SHORTWEIGHT COAL

CONRAD BACH, WEIGHER, ASSESSED THE MAXIMUM PENALTY.

PLEADED BAD EYESIGHT

Judge Tracy Severely Denounced the Method by Which the Public Is Defrauded.

Conrad Bach, a coal weigher, was assessed the maximum fine of $500 by Judge Tracy in the Dayton Street Police Court this morning for sending out Driver Grant Emerson with a wagon load of coal which was short in weight.

The fine is the heaviest that has ever been imposed for a similar offense. The man's defense was defective eyesight, previous good character and a lack of intention to defraud.

The principal witnesses were Inspector Johnson, of the Correct Weight Coal Association, and Detective Gallagher of the police force. They testified that they had seen the ticket made out and handed the driver; had seen the scale as it registered on the scales of Crowen & Reed, at Twelfth and Gratiot streets, had followed the driver to Third and Locust streets, where they got possession of the ticket, and had then weighed the load at the city weigher's office, and received a ticket from that officer, which showed the wagon to be short 490 pounds of coal.

This was on September 25, and the coal was destined for the Progressive Paper Box Co., of 520 North Main street, it later being received and receipted for in full by the concern.

Attorney Ernest C. Dodge, for the prosecution, held that Bach's defective eyesight was no excuse, and that he had not mentioned the defect when he applied for a license as weigher.

Judge Tracy was almost bitter in his denunciation of the traffic by which persons are defrauded of their rights. He stated that he was firmly convinced that Bach was in collusion with the driver by the man's own testimony that Emerson frequently called upon him for "dimes." The Judge declared that he viewed with the utmost abhorrence men in the mercantile business who used such petty methods to steal some from their customers. He stated that the poor particularly were the ones who suffered and that they were the ones who could least afford it.

Grant Emerson was fined $100 by Judge Tracy in September for the same offense for which Bock was fined Wednesday morning. The police arrested Emerson when they discovered that he was delivering short-weight coal, and on the testimony of the detectives and inspectors he was adjudged guilty.

His employers investigated [illegible] and applied to Mayor Wells for [illegible]. The Mayor instituted an investigation, [illegible] concluded that the weigher, instead of the driver, should have been proceeded against. The Mayor stayed the fine. Now the fine will be remitted.

STEEL TRUST ENJOINED.

Contention of Hodge Sustained by New Jersey Court.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—Vice-Chancellor Emery today filed his decision in the suit of J. Aspinwall Hodge and others to prevent the United States Steel Corporation from retiring $200,000,000 of preferred stock and issuing $350,000,000 in bonds. In his decision the vice-chancellor says:

"I will advise that a preliminary injunction be granted restraining the use of bonds under the resolution upon the terms that if the defendant desires to appeal, the complainant shall consent that the cause be set down for hearing at the next term of the court of errors and appeals."

The resolution referred to by the vice-chancellor was adopted by the directors of the United States Steel Corporation and ordered the retirement of the preferred stock. Vice-Chancellor Emery decides that the meeting of the directors, at which the resolution was adopted, was prematurely called, and that the retirement of the stock under the resolution must be, therefore, enjoined. The decision of the vice-chancellor agrees with the decision of the court of errors and appeals in the Berger case, on all other points.

"THE GLEANERS"
"And she went, and came, and gleaned in the field after the reapers."

Next Sunday
All the purchasers of the Sunday Post-Dispatch
Will receive free, a copy of a beautiful picture, done in ten distinct colors, entitled "The Gleaners," by the celebrated artist, Jean Francois Millet; pupil of Longlois at Cherbourg. His progress at Cherbourg was so remarkable that the Municipality of Cherbourg gave him a small pension that he might go to study in Paris. In 1837 he became a pupil of Paul Delaroche and the friend of Corot, Theodore Rousseau, Dupre and Diaz. He received medals in the Paris salons in 1853, 1864, 1867 (Universal Exhibition); Legion of Honor, 1868. He died in 1875. Diploma to Memory of Deceased Artists.

The Gleaners.

This work was very much discussed. In this picture of country habits some found a criticism of misery of the people. "They are," said Paul de Saint Victor, "the three fates of pauperism." Most of critics appreciated, however, the grandeur and serenity of the picture. "The Gleaners" said Edmond About, "appeal neither to charity nor to hatred; they glean their bread crumb by crumb with that active resignation which is the peasant's virtue." The color scheme is a true representation of the rich harvest fields.

DIVIDEND RUMOR LIFTED GERMANIA

THAT SECURITY THE ONLY ACTIVE ONE IN ST. LOUIS.

MARKET EXTREMELY DULL

Colonial Dropped a Point, While Missouri Trust Remained Quiet—Tractions Were Again Laggards, Transit Selling at $29.

Germania Trust was the only bright spot in the local stock list Wednesday. The general list ruled lower.

Rumors of a dividend in Germania, while not verified at the company's offices, served to strengthen the hands of the bulls and this opportunity for aggressiveness was eagerly seized. The price of the stock was lifted perceptibly and closed stronger.

Other trading was limited within narrow lines.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Opening dealings showed no relief from the recent stagnation, trading centering in the very small number of the leading stocks. Prices ruled slightly above yesterday's close with a few large individual transactions scattered here and there.

Two of the recently most active stocks pursued opposite directions on large dealings after the opening, for instance, Colorado Fuel declined 1¼ while Texas & Pacific advanced to a similar extent. The general market was indifferent to the course of either, and held firm at the opening level. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie common and preferred and General Electric gained 1½ each.

The market reacted to yesterday's closing figures under special selling, but the movement generally was narrow and did not attract much attention. Room traders were reluctant to do much in the absence of any leading large speculative interests and there was a disposition to await developments in the general condition confronting the market. Norfolk & Western was more freely offered than any of the leaders and fell a point from the highest. The rise in Texas & Pacific was also wiped out and Colorado Fuel extended its loss to over 2 points. Wide fluctuations occurred in a number of obscure stocks. New York, Chicago & St. Louis second preferred, North American, Lackawanna and Linseed preferred declining from 1¾ to 4 points, the last named leading. Rubber Goods common and preferred improved 1@2 points. Bonds were steady at noon.

Prices sagged all through the list under spirited selling of some of the leaders. Norfolk & Western was unloaded heavily, causing a reaction to 73 and sharp declines were recorded in the transcontinental railroads stocks. The market generally declined under last night and there was some pressure against United States Steel on the announcement of a judicial decision on a New Jersey court restraining the bond issue.

ST. LOUIS MONEY MARKET.

Business was active in banking and trust circles Tuesday. There was an active demand for money and counter business was large. Rates were firm at 5@5½ per cent for call and 5½@6 per cent in the extreme for time loans. Clearings were $7,919,649, with balances of $1,090,725.

AN ADVANCE THAT DID NOT HOLD

A STRONG ADVANCE IN WHEAT, FOLLOWED BY A COLLAPSE.

COARSE GRAINS ARE WEAK

St. Louis and Minneapolis Bull Wheat—Chicago Holds Off—Conditions Generally Bearish.

Grain.

Well-built up bull markets in wheat had their underpinning knocked out from under them late in the session and suffered quite a collapse. St. Louis and Minneapolis set the pace and kept up a right hot gait for a time, where Chicago was only an "also ran." Most of the bulling at this end was said to be in working a "spread" deal between St. Louis and Minneapolis. Outside the news on receipts and cash situation in the Northwest, which was rather bullish, the information spread before the trade was distinctly bearish. It must have been to have weakened that late bull leader, Chicago, and that is what it did. After the present forced speculative conditions wear themselves out, as they will in time, the legitimate conditions will be once more regarded. Coarse grains gave no evidence of bull sentiment or speculation. Corn longs are ducking away from that great crop that has been raised, and legitimate demands are holding off for a new crop basis of values.

WHEAT—It was the Minneapolis chalk marks and not those of Chicago that were the attraction for the St. Louis traders at the opening, and as the former showed an advance in the Northwestern market the buying side was the one in favor. That receipts at this point were still of the unprecedented order, 155,600 bu having arrived, against 57,200 bu one year ago, and the stock in store the largest on the crop, that weather conditions were perfect and that Liverpool continued poorly unresponsive—the advance there ¼d, where ½c to 1c in America yesterday—were not in it. With the fact that Minneapolis was higher and Northwestern receipts only 694 cars, though a year ago but 632 cars in. And when Chicago followed suit the buying here put prices up ½c. The principal buying was of May by Bert Lasig, supposed to be for the Southeast, Hubbard-Maffitt picking up some and general buying otherwise, the selling also general by profit-takers. A relapse followed the opening advance, but again rallied on some very strong buying, Carter taking a large line. This buying by Carter has been general all the week so far and is generally credited to McReynolds of Chicago. Another report has it that this buying is for a "spread," with the selling in Minneapolis.

Dec. opened at 69⅞c, sold up to 70⅛c, back to 69¾c and up again to 70⅛c. May opened ⅛c better at 72⅞c, advanced to 72½c, went off to 73c and then up to 73½c.

Another good buyer was Spencer and a liberal seller was the Calumet Co., and on advance, the Lang also letting go of most of his early purchases. The buying kept up its end the best during the greater part of the forenoon, May establishing an advance of 1c, but eased off nearing the noon hour. Primary receipts kept well ahead of last year's and clearances were small, the late cables displaying no special features. Minneapolis sent out bullish news on cash situation.

December did not sell above 70¼, though 70¼@70⅜c was bid, and sold also at 70c, at 12 o'clock resting at 70@70⅛c. May advanced to 73⅜c and by noon was back to 70¼@70⅜c.

The closing cables reported Liverpool ¼@⅜c higher for the day, London unchanged, Paris ⅞c lower to ¼c higher for wheat and 45@65 centimes higher, Berlin ¼c lower and Antwerp unchanged. Primary receipts were 1,409,000 bu, against 1,140,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 662,000 bu, against 415,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 304,000 bu.

The last hour of the session presented a decided contrast to that of the early hours. Minneapolis lost its grip and declined 1c, due, it was said, to the heavy selling that had been going on there for St. Louis, and this had a bearish effect locally. There was such a pressure to sell that December and May broke ⅞c from the top, closing with former ⅛@¼c below Tuesday's close, where May ¼c higher. Carter and also Spencer, were the best buyers on the decline. Little export business reported.

December sold at 70c, to 69⅝c, closing at 69⅝@69½c; May at 73⅝c, to 72⅞c, closing at 73c.

Cash market—Received 6751 sacks and 150 cars local and six cars through. Higher and choice grades of soft winter continued to find ready buyers, but this chiefly to go to store, as city and outside milling requirements light. Sales from store were small, of No. 3 red, at 69c East and 68⅜c West Side f. o. b. By sample delivered—No. 2 red at 70½@70⅝c West and 71c East Side; No. 3 red at 68½@69½c West and 69@70c East Side; No. 4 at 64@66c West and 65@68c East Side; rejected at 60½@61c. Hard winter in limited offering, the quality not attractive to millers. No. 2 at 69c and Kansas turkey worth 70@71c; No. 3 at 65c and choice worth 68c; No. 4 at 61@63c; rejected at 58@60c. More spring in, No. 2 selling at 65½c, No. 2 Colorado at 72@72½c and No. 3 do at 69c.

CORN—There was little response by this grain to the early strength and advance in wheat. Weather conditions were too favorable, bringing much nearer to market, if only in imagination, the great crop raised this year, and certainly improving its condition, so that speculation bearishly influenced, whether it wanted to be or not. Receipts were small, but the 27,500 bu exceeded the 24,000 bu of a year ago. Liverpool was unchanged to ⅛d lower.

But little trading was done during the early hours, as little disposition shown by the average pit trader to either buy or sell, his interest centering in wheat, and no orders in the market. December opened and all sales at 40c, ⅛c decline, though at one time 40⅛@40¼c bid, and was offered at 39⅞@40c. May had 39¼c bid, sold later at 39⅛c and then 39⅛@39¼c bid.

Chicago advices were that longs were selling out there, and as not much demand, the effect was naturally weakening. Here the market was absolutely featureless. All sales of December were at 40c, though 40⅛c was bid, and May sold at 39⅛c to 39¼c.

Primary receipts were 395,000 bu, against 260,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 3 9,000 bu, against 408,000 bu last year. Clearances were 2200 bu. Liverpool closed ⅛d higher for the day and London ¼d lower.

So much weakness developed in the Chicago market that selling increased materially here, the withdrawal of the wheat prop, the strength in that grain having been a sustaining influence, having an unfavorable effect also, and quite a decline took place. At close Dec., which principally pressed for sale, was ⅛c above the bottom and ½c below yesterday's close, May only losing ⅛c. Dec. sold at 39⅞c to 39⅝c, closing at 39⅝c bid; May at 39@39⅛c to 39c, and latter bid at close.

Cash Markets—Received 192 sacks and 26 cars local and 4 cars through. Considerable new on sale and a better demand for it, an East side elevator bidding 44c for No. 3 or better net. By sample new white on levee at 48c, yellow at 45c, no grade at 32c and on the ear at 35@38c. Old mixed lower. No. 2 selling delivered at 56c and No. 2 yellow at 57c, but No. 3 white steady at 58c and No. 2 white not quotable above that. No. 3 mixed worth 55c.

OATS—There were bids of 28¼c for December and 29¼c for May, but no trading. Receipts were 81,000 bu, against 33,600 bu one year ago.

A weakening in Chicago, where the Cereal Co. was reported a large seller caused December to be offered at 28¼c November, but for May 29⅝c was bid. Primary receipts were 900,000 bu, against 397,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 543,000 bu, against 253,000 bu last year. Nothing cleared.

The market steadied for December, which sold at 28¼c, the same asked at the close of day before, but May offered late at 29¼c and this ¼c decline. Cash market shaped up better.

Cash market—Received, 48 cars local and 12 cars through. Steadier. Offerings smaller and demand better, though still rather limited; No. 4 was in best request. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 30½@31¼c (latter fancy) west side; No. 3 at 29@29½c west and 29¼@29c east side; No. 4 at 28c east side; golden at 29½c; No. 3 white at 32c west side; No. 4 white at 30@30½c west and [illegible] east side.

RYE—Firm; No. 2 selling delivered east side at 66c and No. 3 at 65c.

Trade Topics.

Manitoba received 2116 cars wheat last week, of which 1093 graded No. 1, 635 cars No. 1 and 206 No. 2. These were large receipts and excellent grading.

Cash business in Chicago yesterday was 50,000 bu No. 3 corn for shipment, Duluth reported 200,000 bu wheat C. I. F. Buffalo and 56,000 bu for export. The seaboard at close confirmed 200,000 bu wheat with 25,000 bu choice wheat sold at Australia, and sales of corn 400,000 bu.

W. E. Holmes of Liverpool and H. K. Zuppinger of London were visitors on 'change today.

The following bullish message came from Minneapolis: "One hundred and fifty thousand bu wheat sold here just now at 7½c to arrive any time before Christmas. Everybody been talking a thousand cars here and we only have 350 cars today."

The Connery Commission Co., received a sample of new white corn from Warren County, Missouri, that was as perfect in quality and condition as corn could be. This corn is now offered for shipment to this market.

So far for week nearly 600,000 bu wheat has arrived at the St. Louis market, and, if continued at same rate, the total for week will exceed the 1,092,000 bu of last week. The lack of moving facilities from the country stations continues to restrict the movement. Receivers say their mail is burdened with complaints from country shippers because of inability to obtain cars in which to ship. As one correspondent of the J. H. Teasdale Commission Co. wrote, "We get plenty of promises, but no cars, and we can't ship wheat on promises." Hence stocks are filling up country elevators to the roof and even piling up on the ground, where the elevators are full.

A Winnipeg dispatch reports the crops of Manitoba for this year as 64,283,434 bu wheat, 49,514,589 bu oats, 13,108,074 bu barley and 618,603 bu flax.

The opening in wheat at Liverpool was very inactive, with prices ⅛d higher than last night. Scattered covering by shorts caused a further gain of ⅛d. Corn opened steady in tone at ⅛d decline, being affected by the lower American cables. Later January advanced ⅛d in sympathy with the firmness in October and on buying from Ireland.

Minneapolis wired Rooke: Snappy demand for cash wheat here. Millers take all good wheat on tables and fix the price later.

To Petri: Think on recessions May provisions should be bought. There appears to be a mania for selling far-off futures as low down as possible, and from present indications it is a mistake. Several months ago the knowing ones were going to have a tremendous run of hogs in November and make cheap January provisions. That prophecy promises to fail, and the better posted and conservative operators now believe there will be to a certain extent a repetition of this situation for May.

To Gays: We hear from good authority that the Argentine shipments of wheat this year will be 56,000,000 bu.

Jackson of Chicago wired the Post-Dispatch commercial: "Liverpool writes me that the Argentine exportable surplus of wheat is expected to be 66,000,000 bu.

FLOUR AND FEED.

FLOUR—A better domestic trade reported, increasing orders coming in and filled, notably from the East, including New England, but sellers stated that rates had to be shaded to effect sales. Nothing of importance in the way of export sales made.

Soft winter flour—Patents, $3.40@3.55; straights, $3.25@3.35; extra fancy, $3.10@3.20; clears, $2.95@3.05; low grades, $2.40@2.70; hard winter flours—patents, $3.20@3.30; straights, $3@3.10; clear, $2.60@2.80. Foregoing prices for lots from first hands, track or at depot this side. Orders higher.

RYE FLOUR—In a jobbing way at $2.90 in jute sacks and $3.15 in wood for new. Mixed and inferior less.

CORNMEAL, ETC.—F. o. b.: City meal at $2.60; grits, hominy and pearl meal at $3.20.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Eastern jobs at $6.50 per bbl.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Wheat opened steady on firm cables, small receipts in the Northwest and a good cash demand. The strength of the northwestern markets was again the feature. Advices from San Francisco were still bullish, stating the demand from Australia was again urgent. Dec. opened a shade lower to ⅛c higher at 73⅛@73¼c to 73⅜c and on fair buying advanced to 73½c. Later the market sold off to 73⅛c, on selling of May by brokers. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 694 cars, which, with local receipts of 70 cars, 8 of contract grade, made a total for the three points of 764 cars, against 739 cars last week and 765 cars a year ago.

Weak cables and continued fine weather caused corn to open slightly lower and trading was light. Commission houses bought freely at the decline and the early loss was largely regained, the firmness in wheat also being a supporting factor. Another decline followed, however, on selling of May by brokers. Dec. opened a shade to ⅛@¼c lower at 50⅞c to 51c, but quickly advanced to 51¼c, only to react again to 50⅞c. Local receipts were 133 cars, with 20 of contract grade.

The opening in oats was quiet with prices practically unchanged. The market was influenced considerably by the action of other grains. Dec. opened unchanged at 30¼c, but declined slightly to 30⅛c. Local receipts were 159 cars.

Higher prices for hogs at the yards imparted strength to provisions at the start, with lard still the leader. Commission houses and brokers were the best buyers. Jan. pork opened 10c higher at $15.75; Jan. lard, 2½c to 5c higher at $9.35 to $9.37½, and ribs were 5c higher at $8.30.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Cash wheat—No. 2 red, 74c; No. 3 red, 69@71c; No. 2 hard winter, 72@73; No. 3 hard winter, 70c; No. 1 northern spring, 74c; No. 2 northern spring, 73c; No. 3 spring, 70c. Corn—No. 2, 55¼@56c; No. 3, 55¼@56c. Oats—No. 2, 29¼c; No. 3, 28¼@28¾c.

BRIQUETTE FUEL CO.

The peculiar conditions in the coal market and the fact that Briquettes have been demonstrated to be the equal of the best anthracite, pound for pound, in both heating and lasting qualities have created such a demand for Briquettes that the present capacity of the company's plant is utterly inadequate to supply it. It is imperative that the plant be enlarged immediately. To do this capital is required. The company has therefore decided to offer for a few days 3000 shares at $15 a share. For full information call at the company's office, or write and a representative will call upon you.

...OWN PRINCE SURE TO COME

...inion of Adolphus Busch, ...st Back From Germany.

...IANS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

...EROR WOULD COME IF SUCH A THING WERE POSSIBLE.

... Busch Brings Good News for the World's Fair From Europe and Tells What May Be Expected.

Dispatches from New York City to the Post-Dispatch state that Adolphus Busch arrived there on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse yesterday with a party of American tourists, which included Gen. Wesley Merritt and Mr. Collier of the Collier White Lead Co. of St. Louis.

Mr. Busch, who has been spending six months on his estates in Schwalbach and in touring Germany, France, Belgium and Austria, was in excellent spirits when interviewed at the Holland House, and the trip seemed to have rejuvenated him by 20 years.

"I made it my business to get in touch with various German manufacturers who will take a part in the St. Louis World's Fair," he said, "and was surprised to learn how much enthusiasm they are displaying over it. The German exhibits will not be confined to art alone, for the government has asked the manufacturers to bestir themselves and there will be extensive exhibits of glass and porcelain, steel, cutlery and other products.

"An especial feature of interest will be the exhibition of important new German inventions. Some of them are so new that patents have not yet been granted, but among them will be some novelties.

"The 'American invasion' of Germany by American manufacturers has aroused the people of the 'Vaterland,'" continued Mr. Busch. "American shoes are taking precedence in Berlin and the larger cities. American canned fruit and patent medicines are also receiving the preference.

"The Atlas Cement Works of Pennsylvania, which has only been in existence four years, has attracted the notice of men in Germany who regard themselves as the pioneers in the production of that article, and one of the most prominent of them is coming to this country to learn how we Americans can undersell them at their own game, when they have been manufacturing cement for centuries."

Mr. Busch stated that he had no doubt that the crown prince of Germany would visit the St. Louis World's Fair. He said the Emperor himself would gladly come, if such a thing were possible.

Mr. Busch will spend a week in New York City and Washington before returning home.

CITY NEWS.

THE CRAWFORD STORE by rights should sell all the Pianos that are being sold in the city, for the very simple and proper reason they don't take any advantage of their customers' greenness or ignorance of values of Pianos!! No; every Piano has its own proper price put on it when it enters the Store, and that proper price is the lowest that honest and straightforward merchandizing can afford, and is the one ... for all, rich or poor, old or young!! ... Motto of the CRAWFORD STORE in every department is one price for all!!

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Marc A. Blumenberg, a critic of music, who said Victor Herbert's compositions were neither original nor inspired, must pay the director $15,000 for the observation.

Blumenberg printed his criticism in his own paper and Herbert sued for $50,000.

HORSE SHOW OPENING.

Green's Display of Millinery Will Open the Women's Eyes.

The "Horse Show" opening in the new department of L. E. Green & Son's beautiful store at 408 North Broadway will interest every woman who delights in fashionable millinery.

This new department is situated on the second floor of their building and is most attractively and comfortably arranged. Patrons are ushered into a delightfully home-like reception room, with a handsome Colonial mantel, library table supplied with magazines, stationery, etc. The walls are lined with leather-tufted deep divans, which will prove a luxury to tired shoppers. The beautifully polished oak floors are covered with handsome Turkish rugs, not only in the reception room, but in the main portion of the store, which is devoted exclusively to the sale of imported and trimmed hats. The hat department is separated from the reception room by an arch of mahogany, all the cases and fixtures of which are of this rich deep-toned wood.

The "trying-on" rooms are an innovation introduced here and are a great convenience and comfort. The entire department is profusely decorated in the Horse Show colors—green and white—the colors being carried out in feathery white chrysanthemums, gracefully drooping grasses, palms and quantities of smilax.

Every day of the opening the department has been thronged with fashionably gowned women admiring and purchasing.

Mr. Green returned last week from New York, and the cases are restocked with the latest confections of the millinery masters of New York and Europe. There is a most attractive array of muffs and ruffs in all the pastel shades and white, black, and the new shade, "jasper." The hair ornaments, flowers, ribbons and neck requisites on the first floor deserve a thorough inspection.

WOMEN WANT MALE LOBBYIST.

May Appoint One to Work for Woman's Suffrage Measures.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Adelaide Ballard of Hull, president of the Equal Suffrage Society, which is holding its state convention here, urged the organization in her annual address to employ a male lobbyist instead of a woman to press equal suffrage legislation in the Iowa General Assembly. The recommendation has not yet been adopted.

STOLEN CIGARS FOUND IN SALOON

PROPRIETOR ARRESTED FOR RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

Thomas Walsh, a grocer and saloon keeper at 1415 North Seventh street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Cordell and Kelley and is now a Four Courts prisoner, charged with receiving stolen property.

The establishment of the A. A. Ladd Cigar Co., 320 North Third street, was burglarized early last Thursday morning and 20,000 cigars were stolen. They were valued at $35 per thousand.

Yesterday afternoon Detectives Cordell and Kelley received information upon which they visited Walsh's saloon. They demanded the cigars, but Walsh protested his ignorance of their whereabouts.

The officers then searched the place and found 26 boxes of the stolen brand on top of the ice chest. These were brought to the Four Courts with Walsh.

Chief Desmond "sweated" the prisoner. At first he denied knowing anything about the presence of the stolen cigars in his saloon. The inquisitorial method continued, however, and finally he admitted that he had bought the cigars from two unknown men about four days ago. He stubbornly persisted that he did not know the men, but said that he had purchased the lot for $15.

He admitted that he was under the impression that the cigars were stolen when he bought them, because of the ridiculously low price, but the bargain was too good a one to be resisted.

Walsh was placed in the holdover and the grandjury will take up his case today, as Chief Desmond is desirous of having an indictment returned without delay.

Walsh's store and saloon was taken possession of by the police upon an order issued by Chief Desmond. They are searching it to find the remainder of the stolen cigars.

OVERLAND CRUISE BY THE YACHT CERO

ON ITS WAY FROM NEW YORK TO FLORIDA.

En route "overland" from New York to Florida, the yacht Cero, owned by H. S. Stewart of Pittsburg, is anchored today in St. Louis harbor, at foot of Breman avenue.

It left New York June 17, going up the Hudson river and through the Erie canal to Lake Erie. Via the great lakes the Cero went to Mackinac Island and then down Lake Michigan to Chicago, coming to St. Louis via the drainage canal and the Illinois river. It arrived last Friday.

The yacht will proceed south today or Thursday, going to the gulf of Mexico and thence to Miami, Fla., its destination. From Miami it will steam up the Atlantic to its starting point.

Mr. Stewart, who projected this novel inland yachting trip, is a wealthy real estate man. He has a crew of six men, Capt. Charles Jarriat commanding. He is not with the party at present, but will board the yacht again at Memphis. He returns to Pittsburg at intervals to attend to important business.

During the summer months Mr. Stewart had as his guests in northern waters Justice George Shiras of the United States Supreme Court and J. J. Jackson, a Pittsburg banker.

The boat's dimensions and capacity are: Length from bow to stern, exclusive of bowsprit, 65 feet; beam, 17 feet; draft, 3 feet 10 inches; main mast, 65 feet; after mast, 45 feet. The yacht is equipped with a 16-horsepower gasoline engine, and a tank storing 600 gallons of gasoline is under the after deck. Three staterooms and a forecastle accommodating six persons furnish the apartments of the crew and guests. A galley measuring 20 by 8 feet, and a saloon 16 by 14 feet, also a bathroom and a large clothes press, are additional comforts aboard. The owner, Mr. Stewart, is a member of the New York Yachting Club, and the yacht, as it lies, is worth close to $20,000.

SIAM'S PRINCE LOVES AN AMERICAN

MISS ELEANOR WILSON.

According to a report from Philadelphia the crown price of Siam, who is now in this country, is in love with Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of Gen. James H. Wilson of Delaware, who was a member of the American embassy to King Edward's coronation. The prince met Miss Wilson in London, and his attentions to her there were marked. He wrote a play and dedicated it to her. One of the prince's first journeys in this country was to Wilmington, Del., where he was the guest of Gen. Wilson. Miss Wilson is 20 and a blonde. The crown prince is 22 and is thoroughly European in education and manners.

FANATICS "LOOK FOR JESUS"

Two Thousand Members of Persecuted Russian Doukhobors Endure Many Privations on Long March.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Oct. 29.—Two thousand Doukhobors, a Russian sect which fled to this country to escape persecution by the Czar's government, have arrived at Yorktown from their Canadian farms, on a long march "to look for Jesus."

All of them are insane over their religion, having been stirred to fanaticism by their priest, who asserts that he is inspired.

Given extensive reserves by the Dominion government, grouped together in thousands, given the right to use lands without paying taxes, refusing to register births, marriages or deaths, taking a woman to wife one day and putting her away and taking another the next; coaxed, coddled and cajoled, these Doukhobors favored by the government consider themselves the elect of God.

They camped out last night without shelter and the thermometer stood at 14 degrees below the freezing point.

They eat only buds and fruits, their creed teaching that anything raised by the labor of man or beast is tainted with sin.

One mother refused to allow her starving baby to taste milk. Others are reported to have cast their babes by the roadside, trusting to God to care for them. They have been marching several days and it is feared that their privations will drive them to violence.

WATERED STOCK IS BARRED.

Combine of Bituminous Coal Companies Planned to Eliminate It.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—The union of the Pittsburg Coal Co. with the Monongahela Consolidated Coal and Coke Co. is contemplated by negotiations now under way. Their combined capital is $110,000,000 and their assets aggregate $120,088,581.

Consolidation of these interests will launch by far the strongest bituminous concern in the world. The combined coal output of the two concerns is close to 30,000,000 tons a year. The plan is to make the Pittsburg company lessee and the purpose ... economize operations.

The tentative plan is to merge the two companies, and at the same time eliminate one of the seemingly fundamental principles of such moves, which is the issuance of a new and increased lot of watered stock to more than cover the combined issues of the constituents.

While the Pittsburg company will probably become the investor interest, there is no present purpose to issue new stock of the Pittsburg company to take over that of the river company. Anything like a ... ... is to be eliminated.

HOSPITAL WORK PROCEEDS.

B. P. I. Awards Plumbing Contract Despite Longfellow's Protest.

The Board of Public Improvements unanimously voted to award the contract for the plumbing work at the new City Hospital at its meeting yesterday, despite Building Commissioner Longfellow's complaint ... with. The board held that only a very few minor changes had been made by the president of the board, who had the authority to amend them.

The contract was awarded the Burke & Kilpatrick, whose bid was $21,637, the city having estimated the cost at $25,000. The contract for boilers for the new buildings was awarded to the Heine Safety Boiler Co., whose bid was $10,000. Nov. 18 was set apart for a public hearing on proposed improvement and reconstruction of certain streets.

Assaulted for Criticising "Butlerism."

After the delivery of an address last night by William B. MacBride, an Allied Party candidate for justice of the peace, he was assaulted by several men who demanded an explanation of his reference to "Butlerism" made during his address. When he replied he was struck in the face several times. He says that had it not been for the interference of his wife and child, who were present at the meeting, he would have fared much worse. He reported the matter to the police, who are making an investigation.

CHORAL-SYMPHONY CONCERTS.

Raoul Pugno Will Be Soloist in Opening Entertainment.

Raoul Pugno, the French pianist, will be the soloist at the opening concert of the Choral-Symphony concert, November 27. He will play Grieg's concer... with orchestral accompaniment, Svendson's symphony, three short solos and Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso."

All the Choral-Symphony concerts this season, it is announced, will begin at 8:15 and close at 10:15 o'clock sharp. No selection except the great choral numbers will occupy more than half an hour in its rendition.

Director Ernst, according to the society's press agent, will present during ... "many morceaux de concert and ... de l'opera, which, for want of flexible string and wood wind instruments, formerly had to be eschewed."

The new chorus of ... is working energetically. It is now complete numerically and no more applications are being received.

Brothers Charged With Murder.—Will and Richard Willis, brothers, are in custody at Clayton charged with the murder of Bud Brooks, who was killed at a negro dance last Saturday at the home of Clem Washington, south of Clayton. Will Willis was arrested Monday; his brother was captured yesterday at Webster Groves by Deputy Sheriff Bellairs.

Of Course You're Going To the HORSE SHOW?

IN ST. LOUIS, as in all the more prominent Eastern Cities, this annual exhibition has come to be looked upon as the social event of the season. It's an occasion where the handsomest and most exquisite toilettes—products of the world's cleverest modistes—make their entree into the fashionable realm. An event where society turns out en masse to pass judgment on America's best equine talent. "What to select" is the perplexing question that oft confronts many admirers of feminine finery. Famous can greatly assist in solving this difficult problem. Our buyer has just returned from a special eastern trip where he secured duplicate fancy Coats and Gowns, such as are now on display in the most exclusive specialty cloak rooms of New York City—they're copies of imported models and contain all their dash and snap. Wednesday and Thursday these beauteous creations will be on exhibition and sale, among which will be found, specially priced,
